—REBEL ACCEPTS ASYLUM—

Santa Maria Surrendered

Recife, Brazil (AP) — Capt. Henrique Galvao's swash-buckling, seaborne revolution ended Friday night in total surrender of the cruise liner he seized 12 days ago and his somber acceptance of asylum offered by Brazil. President Janio Quadros of Brazil quickly handed the Santa Maria over to Portugal for return to its Portuguese owners.

The ceremonial surrender took place on the first class promenade deck of the darkened, nearly deserted vessel. The ritual ended with Brazilian Adm. Dias Fernandes turning to Galvao and asking: "Do you agree to turn over this ship to the Brazilian command?"

"I do," replied Galvao. Attention Galvao stood stiffly at attention as Fernandes announced the ship would be turned over to Brazil and Galvao and his rebels will be granted asylum in Brazil.

The Galvao rebels stood at attention with their backs to the ship's railing. Their arms were stacked in a corner of the ship's saloon.

As Fernandes ended his announcement, Galvao saluted the Brazilian naval officer and embraced him.

Armed Brazilian marines stood by during the ceremony.

President Quadros in the hinterland capital, Brasilia, then announced the handover of the ship to Portuguese authorities.

Galvao and his 27 followers were brought in with their luggage by tug from the anchorage just offshore.

Luggage included cheap suitcases and one deck chair a rebel apparently was saving as a souvenir. The rebels were taken in two buses to police barracks to remain overnight.

Galvao rode in the wheelhouse of the tug. Just before landing he stepped up onto the tug's small bridge.

Unloaded Brazilian marines and stevedores helped unload the luggage from the tug. Then Galvao stepped ashore and was surrounded by a swarm of Brazilian officials. He walked toward a guarded area where newsmen waited, and posed in salute for news photographers.

Later Galvao and his rebels posed together, holding the rebel flag. Only the ship's promenade deck and bridge were lighted. Passenger baggage lined the dark corridors and some was stacked in the foyers of the saloons.

Half empty whisky glasses remained on a table in the saloon where Galvao and Brazilian naval officials had a friendship drink.

Take Fruit The bulletin board in the room still had posted a notice asking passengers not to take fruit and vegetables ashore.

Legally, President Quadros had to deal with the Portuguese government rather than the ship's owners. His decree stated specifically that the Santa Maria was turned over to the government. Portuguese diplomatic officials were expected to take charge of the vessel in behalf of the owners, the Colonial Navigation Co.

Quadros said he acted in accordance with his executive powers. In turning over the ship directly to Portugal, the Brazilian president avoided a legal dispute between the Brazilian Navy and the Colonial Navigation Company over jurisdiction of the vessel.

Galvao said his future plans were a military secret.

Band Of 30 He said that the total band of rebels who seized the 610-foot vessel never numbered more than 30.

Dardea Carvalho, a high official of the Brazilian Ministry of Interior and Justice, came to Recife to discuss with Galvao the status of his asylum. It was not known how long Galvao plans to stay in Recife.

A police official at the barracks where the rebels were taken said the rebels were free to go anywhere they liked — and not under detention.

A government spokesman said earlier the rebels will be provided with special protection at least as long as the passengers and regular Santa Maria crewmen are in Recife.

Viva Brazil Dockside spectators applauded when Galvao and his rebels were brought from the ship. Galvao responded with "viva Brazil."

The Portuguese author-adventurer sought out Admiral Dias Fernandes for a last handshake. This touched off an rash of handshaking between the rebels and Brazilian officials.

Adm. Dias Fernandes said in accepting Galvao's surrender the Brazilian government was carrying out a promise of asylum made by President Quadros Wednesday in a radio message from Brasilia to Galvao aboard ship.

Power Commission Opposed By NREA

By Jim Woodson The Nebraska Rural Electric Association Friday expressed its unanimous opposition to a state power commission, advocating instead a merger of its major power districts by voluntary internal negotiation.

The approved merger resolution stated: "Public Power districts now existing must effect mergers and consolidations appropriate to coordinate the electrical facilities within each area into units of operation which will provide adequate, efficient and economical service to all electric users in the state."

The group felt the existence of a state regulatory commission, which would be created by the proposed LB 494, would increase the interest rates public power districts must pay for borrowed money.

"It is unthinkable," the opposing resolution said, "under our system of government, that a state commission should undertake to substitute its will for the will of those elected by the people..."

Unanimous support was given LB 605, which provides for the elimination of overlapping duplication and conflicts in the operation of public power districts through voluntary mergers and consolidations.

Support Other Bills Supported in conjunction with LB 605, were LB 606, LB 613, and LB 444, all of which would bring more efficiency and regulation to the systems.

Legislative Bill 606 provides for the organization of a wholesale generation and transmission public power district. LB 613 would allow expansion of the representation of a public power district when it operates in more than 50 counties.

LB 444 would provide for exceptions for sale, lease, and transfer of property, franchises, and equipment of the public power district as described.

Snow Leaves Thousands Of Workers Homebound—

EAST U.S. STAGGERS

Distressed Areas Reel Under A 1-2 Punch

By the Associated Press

Another wave of crippling snow engulfed much of the eastern half of the nation Friday night—the second wintry blitz of the day.

The latest storm brought fresh peril to motorists on major highways and raised the number of weather-connected deaths to 23.

Already staggered by huge snowfalls that whipped the Midwest, many communities in Ohio and Pennsylvania were helpless in the face of new accumulations.

New York City, harassed by earlier storms, had 2½ inches of fresh snow.

Virginia, West Virginia, southern New York, southwestern New England, portions of New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware were warned by the Weather Bureau to expect from 6 inches to one foot of new snow, some of it mixed with sleet and rain.

Traffic on some sections of the Ohio and Pennsylvania turnpikes inched along. The Toledo-Detroit expressway was described by police as "a sheet of ice." Only a trickle of traffic moved on the Pennsylvania pike between Somerset and Donegal.

where a one-foot snowfall posed a hazard.

The storm-related deaths reported during the day included 5 in Missouri, 6 in Illinois, 1 each in Pennsylvania, Maine, Kentucky, Georgia and South Carolina, 2 each in Pennsylvania, Maine, Kentucky, Georgia and South Carolina, 2 each in Michigan and Iowa and 3 in Tennessee.

Ohio measured snow up to 5 inches deep. In Pennsylvania drifts ranged up to several feet, and Washington, D.C., recorded 7 to 9 inches.

On the Great Lakes, ice floes struck a blow at shipping. Six ships struggled in a mesh of 4-foot-thick ice piled against the Milwaukee harbor by stiff winds.

The storms closed hundreds of schools Friday, kept thousands from getting to their jobs on time, if at all, and made a mess of transportation.

Chicago Blanketed The snow ranged up to 7 inches in Chicago before it began to slacken around midday, and more than 1,400 men labored to clear streets and roads.

A Greyhound bus, bound from Milwaukee to Chicago, skidded into an abutment on the tri-state tollway west of Zion, Ill., injuring 14 persons.

The biggest snowstorm of the season dropped 8 inches of snow on St. Louis. More than 160 schools suspended classes there.

Winds raised road-blocking mounds on Indiana highways and formed drifts up to 3 feet thick in some cities.

Up to a foot of snow burdened the Spencer section of northwestern Iowa.

Government employes in Washington were permitted to go home 4 hours early. Caroline and John, the young children of President and Mrs. Kennedy, had been scheduled to fly in from Florida and move into the White House. But warnings of heavy snow postponed their trip to the national capital indefinitely.

Auto Industry Plans Layoffs

Detroit (AP) — The auto industry prepared Friday one-week layoffs of nearly 80,000 men in slicing production rates to balance with unsold 1961 new model cars.

Unsold on the floors of the nation's car dealers are more than one million 1961 cars, one of the highest inventory figures in auto history for this date.

The bulk of the layoffs — scheduled next week and the week to follow — will be at General Motors factories. GM will be idling about 45,000 men for a week starting Feb. 13.

American Motors Corp. ordered a layoff next week of 20,000 workers in Wisconsin plants.

The industry's cutback will be felt mostly in job-short Michigan though plants outside the state also will be affected.

Michigan's unemployment is estimated officially at 320,000 as of Jan. 15, an increase of 80,000 since a month earlier.

Only General Motors of the industry's big 3 and the independent American Motors, which makes the Rambler car, announced layoff plans.

Ward's Automotive Reports, the trade paper, said Ford will lay off 13,500 assembly line workers next week at Dearborn, Kansas City and St. Louis.

Postponed In addition, Ward's said Ford would lay off men at engine factories in Cleveland and Lima, Ohio. A Ford spokesman in Cleveland said, however, he understood a one-week layoff at Cleveland plants scheduled next week has been postponed.

A Chrysler spokesman said Chrysler would have no future production announcement until its operations are surveyed toward the end of next week.

Prior to GM's layoff announcement Friday Ward's said the industry had cut its production plans for February to 400,000 cars as against the previously scheduled 454,000. In February last year the industry turned out more than 650,000 cars.

All of Buick's operations will be down in GM's cutback for the week of Feb. 13. A total of 13,100 workers will be laid off at Buick assembly and the Fisher body plant, both at Flint.

Pontiac said it will lay off 12,000 men Feb. 13 at its Pontiac and Fisher body plants in Pontiac.

GM will lay off another 8,800 at Oldsmobile in Lansing, including Fisher body, and still another 12,000 at 6 non-Michigan B-O-P (Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac) plants. These are in Wilmington, Del.; Atlanta, Kansas City, Arlington, Texas, Los Angeles and Linden, N.J.

Committee Proposes Public Vote On Legalizing Lotteries

A committee of the Legislature voted Friday to give the people of the state of Nebraska the chance to say for themselves if they want to legalize limited drawings, lotteries and gift enterprises.

The bill advanced to the floor by a 7-2 vote of the committee on government would limit the lotteries, however, so that a participant would not have to buy anything or spend any substantial time or effort.

If approved on the floor and by the voters next November, it would allow the Legislature to pass a law opening the participation by Nebraskans to a large number of national and local drawings used by breakfast food manufacturers, soap makers and a large number of other commercial enterprises.

Nebraska and New Jersey are the only states whose residents are now barred from participating in contests in which the winner is decided by a drawing.

No Amendments The bill, LB182, introduced by Sens. Kenneth L. Bowen of Red Cloud, William Moulton of Omaha and Frank Nelson of O'Neill, was placed on the floor with no amendments.

At a hearing last week, lengthy testimony favoring the bill was heard from representatives of the Nebraska Retail Hardware Association, Nebraska State Chamber of Commerce, Nebraska Outstate Publishers Association, advertisers and others.

An amendment was offered to delete the word "lottery" in favor of the word "drawing," because it was felt the word "lottery" means something illegal to a great many Nebraskans. The change was not made.

Meets Postal Laws As the bill stands, the lotteries would conform to U.S. postal regulations.

A similar bill introduced in the 1959 session reached the floor of the Legislature, but failed to pass by a single vote after an attempt was made to amend it to legalize betting on dog races.

In other committee action, two other bills were advanced to the floor after brief hearings. Both were introduced by Sen. Bowen. There was no opposition.

LB108 would allow the boards of cities of the second class and villages to fix the amounts of salaries of appointed officials and employees, and would place a $500 a year maximum salary for the board chairman, and $250 maximum for trustees.

LB109 would allow cities of the second class and villages which have no board of public works to designate the water commissioners as public works commissioners.

Burglary To Convict Is Like Sawing Wood To Carpenter

By Eric Umland

Ever wonder how it feels to sit in a building at night and transfer the contents from the company's cash box to your pocket?

Albert T. Hubbell, who admits he's a professional burglar, told policemen he felt "like a carpenter sawing wood," at time like this.

"I'm a professional," he said, "and I've carried a gun all my life. But I've never shot anyone. A professional doesn't panic and start shooting wildly."

Hubbell, serving a seven year sentence at the Nebraska State Penitentiary for an attempted burglary, spoke to police Friday at the 16th Annual Police Training School in the Law College building.

"You remember back in 1956 when they caught that guy in Omaha stuck in a hole in a roof?" he asked, and laughed. "That was me."

Hubbell, editor of the penitentiary paper, The Forum said, "I became editor of the newspaper a couple years ago and it made a social reformer out of me."

A policeman asked why he became a criminal and why he kept it as a profession.

"Professionals are lazy," Hubbell said. "I like to get up at noon and if I had to be up at 6 for a job..." He didn't finish the sentence.

Floyd Kermmoade, serving a life sentence for murder, also spoke on the convict's opinion of police.

"Almost none like policemen," Kermmoade said, "even individual officers."

Yet they "generally look at policemen as intelligent — or above average intelligence," but they feel harassed and threatened by police.

Kermmoade gave instances of police brutality and graft, and said "we feel, and the public feels, that these things are unwarranted."

The men were then asked what prisoners thought of the Lincoln police department, and Hubbell said, "Lincoln has a good police force. Otherwise I wouldn't be here talking."

"The reputation of the Lincoln police department is good," Hubbell said. "They (his fellow convicts) think you're doing a pretty good job."

However, Hubbell said, "the Nebraska penal system, in my opinion, is not a good one." He said it was "coming around but it has a long way to go."

"You have a warden now, trying to do something about it," he said, but added that he felt "Nebraskans aren't willing to put out the money."

Then, going back to the criminal's outlook of police, Hubbell said, "professionals hate you. We hate you because you catch us and put us in prison. I don't like policemen because they present a danger to me."

The amateurs, however, "fear police but don't hate them." It is the amateur, Hubbell feels, that the police can work with and help.

"You would be justified in picking me up on sight," he told the policemen, "but 90% of the prisoners should be helped," and he said, can be helped.

"The police department is concerned with the image it projects to society," Hubbell said. "I think you should also be concerned with the image you project to the criminal."

Hubbell advised police to "start working on the kids and keep them from becoming professionals."

The professional, he feels, is a lost cause.

Prompt OK Of Anti-Recession Program Expected

Governors, Businessmen Urged To Aid

Washington (UPI) — The Kennedy administration pushed ahead with its emergency anti-recession program Friday amid signs that its legislative proposals would enjoy relatively easy sailing because of their broad voter appeal.

Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg and Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges issued appeals to businessmen and state governors to join the federal government in trying to pull the country out of the business slump.

At the same time, Republican strategists in Congress displayed a reluctance to take a strong stand against President Kennedy's plans to put extra cash into the hands of widows, needy old folks and unemployed workers.

Backed By Voters

They disliked the $1 billion in extra taxes it would take to broaden the Social Security program and extend unemployment compensation payments. But they also believed the proposals would find favor with many voters.

There were these anti-recession developments:

—Goldberg told a National Press Club lunch the government would do everything in its power to stimulate the economy. But he said the administration knew the recession could not be ended without the co-operation of private industry. He said businessmen must provide the actual jobs to curb rising unemployment.

—Hodges wrote the 50 state governors urging them to take advantage of early release of $724 million in federal-aid highway funds to speed road-building, get more projects under construction and more men at work. Kennedy is offering the states immediately money which they had not been scheduled to get until after March 31.

—The Agriculture Department announced plans to buy land for distribution to needy families and school lunch rooms. Land is now being distributed under the recently expanded food donation program for the needy, but current stocks will run out in two or three weeks.

—Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., said he favored aid to areas with chronic unemployment but opposed using defense appropriations for "social purposes." He took issue with Kennedy's order to federal agencies to try to increase federal contract funds for unemployment areas.

Anna May Wong, Movie Star, Dies

Hollywood (AP) — Anna May Wong, 54, the willowy actress who was among the first Chinese on the American movie screen, died of a heart attack Friday night.

Miss Wong's film career spanned 3 decades, during which she was acclaimed as a versatile and talented performer. She made half a dozen movies as early as 1929 and her last one, "Portrait in Black," with Lana Turner and Anthony Quinn, has not yet been released.

Mrs. Robinson Suggests Conrad Drop Atty. Effort

A member of the Democratic state executive committee has written a letter to State Chairman Russell Hanson suggesting that it would be best if Robert Conrad "immediately withdraw as a candidate for the U.S. attorney post."

Mrs. F. V. Robinson of Ashland wrote Hanson that she believes Conrad "deserves a good appointment in an administrative capacity, for which he is so well fitted."

But, she added, she believes that Conrad should withdraw from consideration for U.S. district attorney in Nebraska "in the interest of the party."

Gov. Frank Morrison opposes Conrad's appointment to the post.

A letter declaring that the executive committee has endorsed Conrad was sent to Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy by Hanson.

REP. WEAVER CONFERS, REPORTS:

Strong, Effective Force Will Be Maintained At Air Base

Lincoln Star Special Washington — Rep. Phil Weaver (R-Neb.) announced Thursday, following a long conference with Air Force officials, that there are "long-range plans to maintain a strong, effective force at the Lincoln Air Force Base."

"At the same time," Weaver said, "the Air Force assured me that it is willing to negotiate a reasonable expansion of commercial use of the base, making the facility doubly useful to the City of Lincoln."

Weaver told The Star that the conference was "with people in the Pentagon who can speak officially and with authority for the Air Force."

Noting that there are presently two wings and a squadron of manned aircraft at Lincoln, Weaver said:

"I have been assured that there is no current plan to move these units or to lessen their activity."

Usefulness Increases

"In addition, the Air Force will activate an Atlas missile squadron within a short time, increasing the usefulness of the base."

"I was told flatly by the Air Force people that the 10-year outlook for the Lincoln Air Force Base is very good," Weaver continued.

"It is worth noting that bases now being closed down are small and with lesser missions. Their activities are being moved to bases which were built to handle Strategic Air Command (SAC) missions because those bases generally have bigger and better runways, better equipment and better facilities. Lincoln is such a SAC base."

"Even if some SAC missions are cut back, it is likely that because of its effectiveness and efficiency of operation, lesser missions will be moved to Lincoln."

"This," he added "is the long-range outlook on the part of the Air Force."

Cooperate

"The Air Force assured me it is most anxious to see commercial aviation activities expanded at Lincoln," Weaver said. "They told me they were willing to cooperate in every reasonable way to this end."

"There have, in the past, been differences of opinion between the Air Force and the Federal Aviation Agency," Weaver said, "but many of those have been resolved and the Air Force has now come up with propositions which have been forwarded to the FAA and which it believes will resolve any further areas of difference."

"These new proposals involve insurance on aircraft which might use Air Force runways, return of a comparatively small piece of land to the City of Lincoln, location of a new runway for commercial aircraft, and the runway which small aircraft should be required to use."

(The new runway referred to is the city's proposed civil-use runway located 3,000 feet east of the SAC jet runway and near the Municipal Air Terminal Building.)

Noting that the Air Force has a lease on the LAFB which runs to 2050, Weaver said:

"It is obvious that nobody can foretell what our defense needs will be 90 years from now, or even a dozen years from now. The technology of warfare changes too rapidly for that."

"However," Weaver concluded in his statement, "even with the shifts which may come in defense planning and policy, Lincoln is in a firm position to keep the Air Force base on a strong, effective basis for a good many years to come."

No Authority Change On Runway Proposal

By Virgil Falloon

The Lincoln Airport Authority's request for a civil-use runway at the Lincoln Air Force Base is still its official position, Chairman Leo J. Beck Jr. said Friday.

Regarding any proposal of withdrawal of Lincoln's application, now pending in Washington, Beck said:

"There's been no contact or communication since the Tuesday meeting by anyone concerning withdrawal of the application or any related subject."

Beck said authority members have not discussed the second-runway subject since the meeting Tuesday with City Council members and Chamber of Commerce officials in Gov. Frank Morrison's office.

No Special Meeting

Beck said there's nothing before the authority and anticipated no meeting before the next regular one.

It would be Feb. 14, he said, but it may be moved up to Feb. 7 because of anticipated absences of authority members from the city on the later date.

Speaking for himself, Beck said he felt these alternatives face the city:

—Go ahead with plans for the second runway project at the LAFB although there might be a risk the Air Force would withdraw additional personnel and equipment.

—Build a general aviation airport for private planes at another location and leave commercial planes at the LAFB until the city knows definitely what the government's plans are for the LAFB.

Lincoln's application to the Federal Aviation Agency for the second-runway project is estimated at $1,891,617, of which the city share would be $985,574.

The application includes a 19-point letter of justification for the second-runway and municipal facility expansion and a cost comparison with a general aviation airport east of the city.

The general aviation airport plan is estimated at $1,815,556 plus $333,360 for Terminal Building addition and apron expansion at the LAFB, or a comparable total of $2,148,916. The city's share would be $1,216,469.

Smuggling From Guantanamo Bay Reported Heavy

Washington (UPI) — Naval officers apparently have smuggled up to 12,000 cases of liquor into the United States from the Guantanamo Bay Navy Base in Cuba, the Customs Bureau disclosed Friday.

The illegal shipments deprived the federal government of an estimated $300,000 in duty and internal revenue taxes, the bureau said.

Navy and customs officials said they were tracing records in an effort to recover at least part of the loss from 2,500 officers who visited the Cuban Naval Base within the past year and bought liquor there.

Details of the investigation were given in a letter from acting Customs Commissioner D. D. Strubinger to Rep. Charles E. Bennett, D-Fla. It was made public by Bennett's office.

Man Is Injured

Richard A. Johnson, 29, of 6830 Y, was injured slightly when the car he was driving skidded on ice and struck a tree between Y and Orchard on Cotner Blvd. Johnson was treated at a local hospital and released.

Youth's Burglary Charge Dropped

A burglary charge against Victor M. Burgess of 1210 K was dismissed Friday by Lancaster District Judge Paul White at the request of County Atty. Paul Douglas.

Douglas said Burgess, 16, was on parole from the Kearney Boys Training School at the time of an Oct. 30, 1960, burglary with which he was charged and Douglas said the boy's parole has since been revoked and he has been returned to the institution.

Burgess had pleaded guilty to the charge in County Court but had not yet been arraigned in District Court.

Beatrice Cops Nab Pair In Stolen Car

Two youths, aged 16 and 14, were apprehended 8 miles south of Beatrice on U.S. 77 late Friday 1½ hours after the 1960-model convertible they were in was reported stolen in Lincoln.

Owned by Gary D. Reineke of Roca, the car was stolen from the parking lot of a finance company at 2021 O.

Beatrice police gave chase after the car passed south through the Gage County seat. State Safety Patrol troopers assisted the Beatrice police in the arrest.

State Probing So. Omaha Bank

Omaha (AP) — State Banking Director Ralph Misko said Friday night that an investigation of reported "irregularities" at the South Omaha bank is underway but that there is nothing involved that would hurt the soundness of the bank.

The amount of the reported irregularities is "not alarming," he said, adding that the investigation involves two former employees of the bank and had been underway for about two weeks.

Misko said FBI agents are aiding in the investigation. The FBI said it had no comment and bank president C. B. Newman said any information should come from investigating officials.

Allard E. Folsom Memorial Fund Honors Late Principal

The Allard E. Folsom Memorial Fund honoring the Irving Junior High School principal who died Wednesday has been established by the school's Parent-Teacher Assn.

A committee of past presidents of the Irving Junior High PTA headed by president Mrs. Leon Wonda will meet later with Mrs. Folsom to determine how the funds will be used.

"So many persons have indicated a desire to contribute in some way," said Mrs. Wonda, "that a memorial fund seemed best."

"Many parents in Lincoln who have children at the school now were once students of Mr. Folsom themselves. Therefore they have a double love, respect and admiration for Mr. Folsom."

Mr. Folsom had been principal of Irving School since its founding in 1927.

He died of a heart attack Wednesday. Funeral arrangements are pending at Roberts Mortuary.

Mrs. Wonda noted checks for the fund should be made out to the Allard E. Folsom Memorial Fund and sent to the Irving Junior High School.

Accident Victim Remains Critical

Paul Douglas Parra, 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Parra of 2253 Orchard, remained in critical condition late Friday at Lincoln General Hospital.

The boy suffered head injuries Wednesday in a car-pedestrian accident at 21st and Holdrege.

NPPS Approves Station Contracts

Columbus (AP) — The Nebraska Public Power System has announced approval of contracts for construction of new substations in southeast Lincoln and Lowell, Neb.

The contracts, approved by the directors of the Loup River and Platte Valley Public Power Districts, which jointly own and operate, total $569,832. The largest award was a contract to the Elliott Construction Co., Omaha, $487,919 on the proposed Southeast Lincoln substation.

Army Engineers Okay Gering Water Project

Washington (UPI) — The Army board of engineers for rivers and harbors Friday recommended approval of the Gering flood control and erosion control project in western Nebraska.

The recommendation now goes to the chief of Army Engineers, Lt. Gen. E. C.

Itschner, who will obtain comment from Governor Morrison and interested federal agencies before sending the recommendation to the Secretary of Army for transmission to Congress.

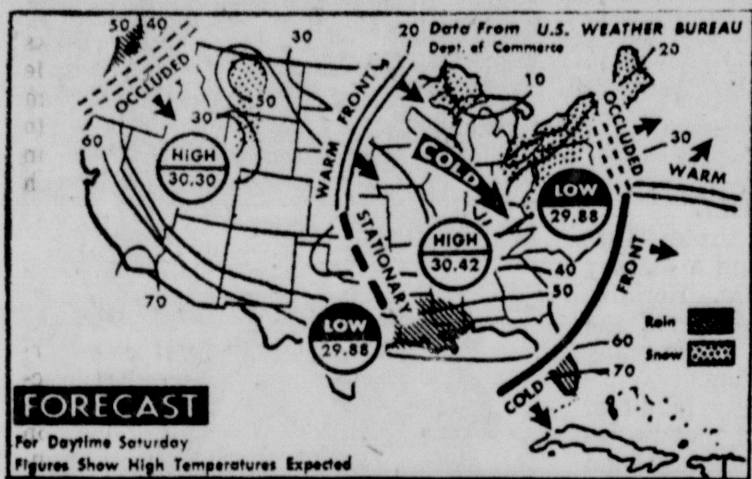

If no adverse action is taken by Congress within 60 days, the Army Engineers will be free to begin construction, under terms of the 1960 flood control act.

The 1960 act appropriated about $476,000 for construction work but included a proviso that a new feasibility report must be approved because of changes in the Gering drain due to recent flooding.

The Gering project work by the Army Engineers consists of 53 concrete drop structures in the main channel of the Gering drain and 35 inlet structures on lateral streams. It includes 118,000 feet of spoil bank levees, along with grass waterways and other improvements.

The project will be undertaken jointly with the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and local interests. The estimated cost of the Corps of Engineers part of the plan is $5,553,000.

Kennedy Sets Program To Aid Cuban Refugees

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy Friday ordered into effect a 9-point $4 million program to aid Cuban refugees from the Castro regime who are in this country.

The money will come from mutual security funds for the remainder of this fiscal year, which ends June 30.

The relief program, under the direction of Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff, will include help for voluntary relief agencies in meeting the daily needs of refugees, resettling as many as possible and getting them jobs.

This was the first of the 9 points in the instruction Kennedy gave Ribicoff.

The others include: Obtaining assistance of both private and governmental agencies in supplying useful employment opportunities.

—Supplying funds to resettle Cuban exiles in other areas than Florida, where about half of the 66,000 refugees are located.

—Providing essential health services.

—Furnishing federal help to meet added costs of operating public schools hit by the impact of Cuban refugee children.

—Starting measures to provide training and educational opportunities for refugees, including physicians, teachers and others with professional backgrounds.

—Giving financial aid to care for and protect unaccompanied children.

—Distributing surplus food to county facilities.

—Providing financial help to meet basic maintenance requirements for needy refugee families in the Miami area.

"I hope," Kennedy said in a statement, "that these measures will be understood as an immediate expression of the firm desire of the people of the United States to be of tangible assistance to the refugees until such time as better circumstances enable them to return to their permanent homes in health, in confidence, and with unimpaired pride."

Ribicoff read Kennedy's statement to newsmen in the lobby of the White House executive offices after conferring with the chief executive and reporting on an on-the-spot survey he has just completed of the refugee problem in Florida.

Kennedy supplied the $4 million cost estimate for the balance of this fiscal year. Ribicoff said nobody knows the extent of the emergency, but added it could cost more than $8 million if it should continue through the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

Norfolk's Rurbia Program Assuming National Status

Norfolk (AP) — Rurbia, a Norfolk trade area program originated by Mayor Warren Cook, has taken on national status with an aim of breaking down barriers between city and rural residents and of promoting co-operation in trade area development.

Backing the program on a national basis will be the National Association of Livestock Auction Markets, an organization for which Cook is becoming speaker and director of customer relations.

On hand for the annual Norfolk Chamber of Commerce banquet at which the national plan was revealed were Cecil Ward of Gainesville, Tex., national NALAM president, and C. T. Sanders of Kansas City, association general manager.

Mayor Cook said he had these suggestions for the future:

Develop a northeast Nebraska research laboratory for agriculture.

Form a Northeast Nebraska Chamber of Commerce.

Establish an area civic center.

Henry Reynolds was installed as the new president of the Norfolk C of C.

Mirages In Sky Range From Cities To Elevators, Claim Many At York

York—Star-gazing has given way to mirage-gazing in this vicinity.

Strange tales of viewing nearby towns, grain bins, elevators, etc., in the sky have become widespread.

Most of the reports come from York, but residents of Geneva, Fairmont, Sutton, Bradshaw, McCool Junction and Lushton have also witnessed the mirages.

A Fairmont resident, Marvin Swartz, said he saw storage grain bins of Doniphan, some 40 miles west of here, on 4 different occasions in the skies. And another time he said he saw the town of Sutton in the mirage.

One of the first to report the strange sights was Curtis Reed of McCool Junction who declares he saw the rolling Sandhills, northwest of Grand Island, and Polk, some 34 miles away.

Others who have reported viewing the mirages include York County Sheriff Lewis Ekart, Claude Walkup of York, Theodore Peterson of Geneva, and Mrs. Bob Stafford of York.

In almost every instance the mirages appeared between 7:45 and 8 a.m., usually on a sunny day. The sightings seem to be preceded by a dark ominous cloud appearing on the eastern horizon. As it drifts upward it parts with the curtain revealing the strange pictures, observers say.

Weather Ahead

Nebraska temperatures for the next 5 days will average 3 to 5 degrees above normal. Normal highs are 31 to 39; normal lows are 11 to 16. Mild Saturday through Monday; colder Tuesday or Wednesday. Little or no precipitation indicated.

'No Softness For Traffic Violators'

Omaha (AP) — Gov. Frank Morrison declared Friday officials must "promote certainty of apprehension and conviction" of traffic violators.

In an address opening the Nebraska Traffic Court conference here, Gov. Morrison warned against softness in dealing with violators.

Oil Probe At Mead Starts

Wahoo (AP) — The Superior Oil Co., Denver, has begun drilling an oil well at the Raymond Nygren farm 2½ miles southwest of Mead. Nygren said drilling is going forward on a 24-hour basis.

This will be the 6th well attempted in recent years in this area. Others were in the vicinity of Colon, Mead and Ceresco. All were dry holes.

"If some drivers prove to be public nuisances, you are going to have to isolate them for a long time," he told the prosecutors and judges gathered for the conference.

Then he spoke of the problem of the driver upon whom a conviction and fine has no effect. He said that in some cases there has been a tendency to "relax the law."

"But you can't do it," he added.

Morrison, who is himself an attorney, related the story of a jury that found a driver innocent and then recommended that the judge tell the man not to do it again.

"I've seen judges laugh at that story and then turn right around and do it themselves," he said.

Gov. Morrison traced Nebraska's traffic from the first recorded fatality, which occurred in Lincoln in 1908, noting that in 1937 there were 12.9 deaths for every 100 million miles of travel, but by 1960 only 4.9 deaths per 100 million miles. But last year, he estimated, auto accidents cost Nebraskans more than $39 million.

"And I have never seen a court recovery in which the innocent victim regained the actual loss he suffered," the governor said.

The meeting continues through Saturday.

State Education Needs

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

There was little to intoxicate Nebraskans in the report on the state's higher education program submitted by Dr. Lyman A. Glenn of California. Dr. Glenn's recommendations are far too extensive to be fully discussed and settled at one time but the state should decide to give the report careful consideration. It will be a sad thing if the document is tossed off as just another round in the seemingly endless stream of expert testimony.

Dr. Glenn may not fully understand everything about Nebraska and he would be as surprised as anyone if everything he said and every recommendation he made were accepted at full value. But in support of the position he has taken, it might be said that his findings are in general in line with the thinking of many people whose roots are in Nebraska soil. His conclusion that Nebraska is not up to par in education is one that many people did not need to be told—they already knew it. What his report does is provide some of the details that have been lacking to date and give added emphasis to what has been said by others from time to time.

Dr. Glenn called for a 66 per cent increase in state expenditures for institutions of higher education by the year 1970. This increase would go toward the improvement of physical plants and the upgrading of faculties. Such an increase does not appear to be at all impossible, nor is it out of line in view of the predicted 80 per cent jump in enrollment in the same period.

In fact, it is surprising that Glenn's money figures are as moderate as they are. One third of the increase he recommended in 10 years has been recommended in just two years in the budget proposals of Gov. Frank B. Morrison. It is not a pleasant thought, but Dr. Glenn reported no area in which Nebraska's higher educational system was superior to that of surrounding states.

And in addition to need, the California educator laid emphasis on the fact that Nebraska can afford to support an improved program. This is really the most important part of the Glenn report because it is the point at which one will find much disagreement. It was noted in the education study that the per capita income in this state is only 9 per cent below the national average while the per capita tax burden is more than 35 per cent below the national average.

Tougher For Evaders

Mortimer M. Caplin, who is the new Commissioner of Internal Revenue, appointed by President Kennedy, has some interesting news.

One bit is that income tax forms will be simplified and will be made more easy to understand. Such an announcement is always welcome because the people have a hard enough time with the English language alone say nothing of that odd jumble of words that emanates from the official world.

Another bit is the department's resolve to look much more sharply at claimed deductions based on business entertainment and junkets. That should tighten a badly worn loophole.

But the most significant of all is the news that the tax department is going to make much greater use of mechanized auditing. The great speed of the machines will provide for a much closer inspection of more tax returns and presumably will release a substantial number of department tax experts to confront those who make questionable returns.

Airport Game Continues

Certain interests in Lincoln and in state government must enjoy the game of airport. Object of the game is to determine who can get an airport first where they want it and any number of players can participate. The game is all the more fascinating because the loser—the Lincoln taxpayer—has no place at the table.

A new round in the game was opened when city, Chamber of Commerce and state officials had a secret little gathering to hear new rumors to the effect that a second runway at Lincoln Air Force Base for Lincoln's commercial aviation would jeopardize continuation of the defense installation. Naturally, no one could give any factual support to this claim but the city is expected to swallow it hook, line and sinker and take the loss it would entail.

On the other side is report after report from authoritative military sources to the effect that such a second runway would in no way influence use of the base for defense purposes. But we are supposed to ignore this as some sort of shady politics and go on to build a monument to private fliers at excessive costs in the eastern part of Lincoln. No, thanks. Monuments are a drug on the market.

The real fact is that a second runway at L.A.F.B. would handle all the city's aviation needs in the most economical fashion possible and would have no bearing on the future of that base for defense purposes. This also fits in with the obvious fact that such bases are on the way out, anyway, and Lincoln will have in the not-too-distant future quite an aviation setup handed it from Uncle Sam. Eastern airport interests and politicians at all levels of government should keep their fingers out of the L.A.F.B. pie.

Southern resort regions realize this and daily their papers carry dramatic stories about especially filthy weather back home. For instance, a 20 mile an hour Nebraska wind is treated like an historic calamity and a two inch snow becomes an "Operation Snowbound." If the weather happens to be rainy and good, no mention is made of it. The experienced winter resorter knows that if his home place is not in the headlines or even mentioned, then it is a fine winter at home and he wasted his money fleeing. This leads to the conclusion that since the northern part of the country, and especially the Middle West, produces the weather stories and the Floridas and Californias and the Arizonas make big money on them those states ought to remit some of their profits to their benefactors.

All of this is a long way around relating that this Lincoln man called up his non-traveling son. He said, "We read that it's been pretty terrible this winter in Nebraska. Is there anything left of the place?"

His son explained that the winter has thus far been mild and that only a week ago there was a bit of what is known as shirt-sleeve weather. The upshot is that the father will be home this week end, presumably about an hour before the season's worst storm begins. He could be a fellow who mis-guessed twice.

New Ex-Im Bank Head Draws Fire

WASHINGTON — When Charlie Merriweather, finance director of Alabama and former campaign manager for Gov. John Patterson, was in Washington for the inaugural, he observed to friends:

"There's a lot of money up here. Guess I could get most anything I want. This boy Kennedy's going to be all right. I just don't know what I want but I hope to get it."

This week, Charlie Merriweather apparently got what he wanted. The White House announced that he was being made director of the Export-Import bank which does out millions.

Hurried President Kennedy relied on the FBI in checking Merriweather's qualifications and the FBI must have been even more hurried when it made its report.

Merriweather was campaign manager for Adm. John C. Bland when the latter ran against Sen. Lister Hill on a public platform of "freeing the press from the Communist-Jewish news quarantine" and "safeguarding the white race."

Merriweather was also investigated by congressman Blatnik's highway committee and the FBI could have found significant material regarding an Alabama highway situation in which the newly designated director of the Export-Import Bank was charged with trying to increase the appraisal of a piece of federal highway land from $1 to $180,000 in order to pay a political debt to a political henchman, Bill Delaney of Mobile. This would have meant that the federal government would have paid 90 per cent of the $180,000, so Uncle Sam would, in effect, have paid off Merriweather's friend.

The charge against Merriweather was made officially in the Alabama state legislature by Legislator Charles Trimmier of Mobile.

Following the charge, Blatnik committee investigator Arthur Perlman arrived at the governor's mansion in Montgomery and questioned Merriweather regarding a telephone call he had reportedly made to a land appraiser, Tom Cochran, to encourage Cochran to raise the highway appraisal of Delaney's land from $1 to $180,000. Merriweather flatly denied making the phone call.

When investigator Perlman went to Mobile and asked the manager of the Admiral Semmes hotel for the record of Merriweather's phone calls, the manager finally produced it but admitted the record had been tampered with.

Asked who had seen the records of Merriweather's calls, the hotel manager finally answered: "Merriweather."

"When?" asked Perlman. "Sunday night at 8 p.m.," was the answer.

On Sunday night at 6 o'clock, Merriweather had sat in the governor's mansion in Montgomery and denied categorically that he made the phone call. Immediately thereafter, he had rushed to Mobile and, arriving at the hotel Admiral Semmes at 8 p.m., had changed the record of his phone calls.

This is the man the FBI cleared to dole out millions from the Export-Import bank.

GOP Defectors Feel Justified

WASHINGTON—The most interesting votes cast in the fight to liberalize the House Rules Committee came from 22 Republicans. Eighteen of them are from the eastern seaboard, three from the Midwest and one from California.

The unifying force which moved the 22 was their conviction that the integrity of their party is not preserved by Republicans acting as shock troops for Southern segregationists led by Rep. Howard Smith of Virginia. Of the 64 Democrats who voted with Smith, 62 were from the 11 Confederate states. They were joined by 148 Republicans.

One of the dauntless 22 put it more picturesquely. "As I saw it," he said, "our party looked like a big, blind elephant with Mahout Smith guiding him and Charlie Hallock (Republican House leader) running alongside as water boy. Shades of Abraham Lincoln!"

All 22 had plenty of chances to explain this point of view to the party leaders and business interests which supported them back home. They were amazed to get so much mail and so many telephone calls on a purely procedural question where their vote represented no commitment of any kind to vote either for Kennedy policy or any piece of Kennedy legislation.

What they feel they actually have done is to improve Republican chances to make the case for fiscal responsibility and a positive international program. Speaker Sam Rayburn, they insist, will need Republican votes again and again and again; the administration is seen as compelled to put its goals in moderate and sensible terms.

Some of the 22 bluntly charged that the Rules fight was badly reported. Too often, they say, was it made to appear that the Rules vote was for or against President Kennedy, for or against spending.

The mail-telephone barrage which was rather generally laid down around the House Office Building indicated that such was indeed a widespread view of the issue.

In strictly political terms, the Republican dissenters naturally feared the segregationist tag. Several suggested that a vote to stand with Representative Smith might in the long run be as damaging to individual Republicans as the signing of the Southern manifesto against integration proved to be to Southern politicians.

The manifesto also seemed like a good idea at the time, an easy way to reassure the home folks that the signers were with them. Its damage to national careers or appointments is already clear, one striking example being Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Between the manifesto and the Little Rock incident, the gifted and charming senator from Arkansas lost the post of secretary of state, which Kennedy wanted to give him.

What penalty Leader Hallock proposes to inflict on the 22, if any, will appear in time. Emphatically, their votes are not in Speaker Rayburn's pocket on any or all legislation.

A THOUGHT FOR THE SABBATH

Stories Of Famous Hymns

No Shadows Yonder!

No Shadows yonder!
All light and song!
Each day I wonder
And say, "How long
Shall time me sunder
From that dear throng?"
No weeping yonder!
All fled away!
While here I wander
Each weary day
I sigh and ponder
My long, long stay.
No parting yonder!
No space of time
Shall hearts e'er sunder
In that fair clime,
Dearer and fonder—
In friendship sublime.

By HORACE B. POWELL

Like Jennima Thompson who wrote "That Sweet Story of Old" while making a journey in an English stage-coach, Dr. Horatius Bonar, author of "No Shadows Yonder!" and nearly 100 other religious songs, made many of his hymn verses while traveling.

There is a rich, tuneful quality in all of his sacred poetry and it is said that he inherited some of his talent for writing from his grandfather who was a hymnist before him.

Born in 1808 in Edinburgh and educated at Edinburgh University, Horatius became a prominent Presbyterian clergyman. Following his ordination, in 1837, he served for six years as minister of the Established Church of Scotland, at Kelso. Later, he was one of the founders of the Free Church of Scotland.

He was a premillenarian and in many of his hymns he prays for Christ's early return and looks forward with happy hope to the heavenly rest that is to come.

Brevity in letters is requested, but length in itself will have no bearing on publication. Writers are advised that needless detail and repetitious matter will be edited out of letters. Too frequent contributions from one person on the same subject may be rejected. All letters must be accompanied by writer's true name, but may be submitted for publication under a pen name or initials. However, letters will be printed under a pen name or initials only at the editor's discretion.

Boor On Wheels

Lincoln, Neb.

The current nonsense about which ambulances should go where and at what speed makes me wonder about our sanity. It certainly confirms a feeling that while Lincolnites are charming and gracious in the parlor, put one behind the wheel of an automobile and he is transformed into a boor.

For 15 years I have been amazed at this charming gentleman-boor who can be a "milquetoast" when he makes a left turn, a part of a stampeding herd going down O Street, and stone deaf when the siren sounds.

Perhaps the ambulance firms, the City Council and the Police Department should concentrate on the strict enforcement of existing laws (and enactment of new ones, if needed) to give the emergency vehicle a fighting chance. In my home city, any time an ambulance or fire truck pulled out of the barn (speed controlled by governors, and a siren which could be heard for three blocks through closed windows), every police car and cycle within call came to fall in as escorts—and the heaviest traffic fines were reserved for those drivers proceeding in any direction who failed to pull over to the curb and stop until the emergency vehicle passed.

Here a siren seems to be accepted as a challenge to get across the intersection first, and the old safety adage has been changed to: "Listen, Don't Look and Keep Going!"

The persons needing that ambulance or fire truck, so far as I am concerned, are infinitely more important than the half minute I may be delayed. This emergency service should be given enthusiastic assistance by each individual and agency in Lincoln rather than imposing restrictions on them in favor of our beloved "boor on wheels."

PABLO

Higher Power

Beatrice, Neb. Jack's Kennedy's election was the result of a dispensation from above. In no other way could he have won over the carefully coached and trained stooge and the special interests behind him.

Ike had great personal appeal but no Army man, past or present, has ever made a good president with the exception of the Father of Our Country, George Washington. Had Abe Lincoln lived, he would have been the other to lead the people out of the wilderness in which they found themselves. The carpet-bagging days and the exploiting of a crushed but proud people would never have been permitted. Today gangsterism and agents from abroad have penetrated all branches of our government until government of, by and for the people has ceased to exist. Both parties are rotten at the core and as for the Golden Rule, there is no such.

Inventions of the 19th century have played a great part in this situation. Of course no one wants to return to the horse-and-buggy days, but they were days of cheap and decent living, with 100 cents on the dollar and most of our great leaders getting their education the hard way.

President Kennedy's housecleaning will not be a bed of roses as evidenced by the sniping and opposition cropping up. Everyone will have to put his shoulder to the wheel, forgetting selfish interests which are showing even here in our own fair state. Mr. Kennedy is backed by a Higher Power than mere man.

JOSEPH M. HIATT

Posting Land

Ord, Neb.

Don Bryant should stick to football and basketball and not try to dabble in the game business. I think the farmers pretty well know their land and the wildlife thereon. Everyone knows the scarcity of pheasant and now they want to kill God's own symbol of love and peace. However, it is only a selfish few who want to get out early and pick off some of the young pheasants if they can get away with it, and they do.

The gentle little dove just sits and waits to be shot. If that is a game bird, then the Game Commission should examine its conscience.

Last year a car from one of our larger cities stopped at a ranch where they were putting up hay, and asked if they could hunt quail. They were given permission. Later when they came back and were asked if they had luck, they opened the bag and had 14 meadowlarks—the real Caruso of the prairies.

I completely agree with the people of McCook that every farmer should post his land, and especially ban the bow and arrow. This is the cruelest of all arms. Ask the game wardens how many injured animals they have had to kill.

The late John Pinal said that killing one woodpecker was equivalent to cutting down three trees 20 inches in circumference.

So Mr. Bryant should stay at his desk or on the football field or basketball court. Let us have a little consideration for those who own the land.

Young Americans

Lincoln, Neb.

Parents who believe that J. Edgar Hoover, presiding Judge Albert Axelrod of the San Francisco Municipal Court, and Mayor George Christopher know the facts and state them correctly when they say the May, 1960, San Francisco student riots were Communist-inspired, and Communist-led should encourage their youngsters to contact "Young Americans for Freedom" (YAFF), 343 Lexington Avenue, New York, New York.

YAFF aids patriots to withstand leftist pressures on campus.

CHRISTIAN

Gentle Dove

Lincoln, Neb.

Last year while traveling through Kansas, we noticed the scarcity of mourning doves. We were glad to get back into Nebraska again, where they could be seen sitting peacefully on the fence lines. Let us NOT be like Kansas and destroy the gentle doves.

These birds eat large quantities of weed seeds. They do not consume fruit nor harm other song birds. Doves are graceful, beautiful birds, whether motionless or in flight. Their "mourning" notes are very pleasing to hear.

We are opposed to LB340.

Nebraska REA Re-elects President Ogier, Other Officers

Saturday, Feb. 4, 1961 The Lincoln Star 5

By Jim Woodson
Officers of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association, holding its 25th annual meeting in Lincoln Friday, were all re-elected to office for a second term.
Returning as NREA president is Paul Ogier of Wallace. Vice-president is John Meyer of Smithfield and treasurer, Orville Choquette of Upland. Edward Hahn of Tecumseh returned as secretary.
In the group's executive board meeting, Orrin Kohlmeier of the Burt Co. Public Power District was approved to replace Lyle Marotz, of the Wayne Co. PPD, in representing region 1 on the board.
Women's Program
While the men were in general assembly Friday afternoon, their wives attended a range home demonstration program, featuring Mrs. Louise Corcoran, home economist for the Cornhusker Rural Public Power District, Columbus.

Cooking tips demonstrated by Mrs. Corcoran included baking a cake on top of the range and coloring cookies with food dyes.
Earlier in the afternoon, on the final day of the 3-day meet, NREA members heard Ralph Foreman, deputy REA administrator from Washington, deliver a farewell talk on "Our Expanding Rural Electric Systems."
"The progress of rural electrification in Nebraska is the result of something more than money," said Foreman. "It has been the product of local enthusiasm, cooperation, and plain hard work."
"The program of rural electrification in this state began in 1935, when REA approved its first electric home in Nebraska. Today, the Norris Public Power District and the other 41 systems are providing first class service to 91,700 homes in the state, operating in all but two counties."
The deputy administrator had nothing but praise for progress made in Nebraska, commending the association on its 100,000 kilowatt steam power turbine and 230,000 volt transmission lines—outstanding indications of its progress.
Foreman concluded:
"In your state and all over the nation, electric power is being used to stimulate the economy and raise the standards of living."
"Future expansion will and must take into consideration every type of power system in obtaining the power it needs to serve the people. No program has contributed more to rural America."

Another reason why no progress has been made—the volume of legislation concerning public power introduced in the current session of the Legislature.
Among the bills is one that would create a public power commission on the state level to control and regulate the various districts.
But Chantry said he remains optimistic, and believes that some of the problems can still be solved by negotiation.
R. L. Schacht of Columbus, manager of Consumers Public Power District, said he feels that many of the areas of conflict can be settled by defining the areas of operation of each agency.

Roy Speece, manager of the York County Rural Public Power District, presented a proposal that an informal 3-member arbitration board be established by the districts themselves.
The self-imposed, self-appointed board, he said, would beat the Legislature to the punch.
Controversial issues taken to the group could be appealed, he said.

RURAL ELECTRIC DELEGATES' WIVES MEET

Power District Negotiations 'Suspended'

Negotiations to solve the differences between Nebraska's public power districts have been "temporarily suspended," a participant of the talks said Friday.
A. L. Chantry of West Point, manager of the Cumming County Public Power District, made the announcement at a meeting of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association in Lincoln.
Chantry said the negotiating committee ran up against the "protective restrictions of bond indentures," into state laws, and also the REA.

Another reason why no progress has been made—the volume of legislation concerning public power introduced in the current session of the Legislature.

THOU SHALT NOT TAKE THE NAME OF THE LORD THY GOD IN VAIN

Millions know about God but refuse to accept Him. They take His name in vain by not taking Him at all. One may take God's name in vain by underestimating His power. The world depends on those who take God's name seriously . . . in earnest.

"Thou Shalt Not Take The Name Of The Lord Thy God In Vain" . . . to gain approval of thine own deceitful ways . . . to pervert tolerance and love of men to a tool for achieving personal power . . . to don the vestments of virtue as a disguise for debased deeds. God's will be done, not mine.

The Lord handed down The Law, The Ten Commandments, through one man . . . Moses. The impact of this story upon our lives will remain forever in man's quest for truth and freedom. Ministers of all faiths and the community-minded firms below persuade you to read the Commandment commentary above and make it a part of your life . . . it is your heritage.

Lumumba Backers Attack U.N. Troops

Leopoldville, the Congo — Rampaging pro-Lumumba rebels ambushed a U.N. unit in Kivu Province Friday and refused to cease fire despite orders from rebel headquarters in Stanleyville. The battle raged throughout the day.

A U.N. spokesman here reported one Nigerian lieutenant with the U.N. forces killed and 4 other Nigerians missing. Congolese casualties were reported much larger. Rebel troops numbered more than 1,500, the Nigerians about 200.

The scene of the battle was Kindu, where Congolese troops nominally under control of the rebel government of Kivu Province — in the eastern Congo — have for several weeks roamed through the countryside terrorizing the population. The soldiers have repeatedly defied their officers' orders to withdraw to barracks.

Remain Loyal

The area is part of the northeastern section of the Congo dominated by forces of the Stanleyville pro-Communist rebels, who remain loyal to deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba.

This was the account given by the United Nations here: A group of rebel soldiers got drunk and began brawling. They opened fire and the Nigerian troops, stationed in the area to maintain order, killed 6 in ending the fight.

Incensed

The dead men's comrades, incensed and seeking revenge, ambushed a Nigerian platoon. The Nigerians fought their way back to their compound and took up defense positions alongside two other platoons, making their total number about 200.

The U.N. troops are members of the Queen's own Nigerian regiment, among the best trained and disciplined soldiers in the Congo.

The incident underlined the Leopoldville government's refusal to accept Dag Hammarskjöld's proposal for reorganizing the Congolese army. Gen. Joseph Mobutu told a news conference Friday the U.N. secretary-general's plan, outlined to the Security Council earlier this week, really would mean disarming his troops.

Mean War

"We will never allow it," Mobutu said. "The U.N. is playing with fire. To disarm the ANC (National Congolese Army) would mean war."

Mobutu and others supporting President Joseph Kasavubu have repeatedly charged the United Nations is unable to keep order in the Congo or prevent civil war among its rival factions.

They obviously fear that while disarming Leopoldville's troops would be relatively easy, persuading the Stanleyville rebels or President Moïse Tshombé's Katanga forces to lay down their arms would be much more difficult.

The United Nations, he charged, is "playing the game of the Asiatic countries who want to disarm Congolese troops and liberate Lumumba. The ex-premier now is jailed in Katanga."

Supreme Court Sets Date For Obbink Briefs

The Nebraska Supreme Court Friday set Feb. 15 as "brief date" for Jack D. Obbink, state aeronautics director, in the case which resulted from his firing from the position last year by Gov. Dwight Burney.

The date is the deadline by which time Obbink and his attorney must file their arguments in writing if they wish to do so.

Obbink, a Democratic appointee of the late Gov. Ralph Brooks, was fired by Republican Gov. Burney for a Sept. 24 plane trip to Kansas City on which the brother of President Kennedy was a passenger.

Obbink maintained he was wrongly fired, and the case went to the Supreme Court. Meanwhile, he was reappointed by Democratic Gov. Frank Morrison, who took office in January.

The attorney general's office, representing Burney, now lieutenant governor, filed its brief earlier.

NWU Profs Give Support To Nebraskan

Wesleyan University chapter of the American Assn. of University Professors passed a resolution supporting the right to "freedom of expression" by the staff of the University of Nebraska student newspaper, the Daily Nebraskan.

The resolution, passed unanimously at a special meeting of the Wesleyan professors' group, stated in part: "We support the right to freedom of expression of the staff of the Daily Nebraskan against attacks of the Omaha American Legion Post No. 1 and the Nebraska School Improvement Assn. and pledge such support and assistance as may be within our capacity in defending the Daily Nebraskan's continued exercise of its rights and duties as a free press."

The student newspaper and its former editor have been the subject of attacks and criticism following an editorial condemning some aspects of the House Un-American Activities Committee film, "Operation Abolition" showing students demonstrating at HUAC hearings in San Francisco.

The Wesleyan AAUP resolution said the group "consider that a student newspaper serves a vital educational purpose in any department or school of journalism, and . . . any attack on the expression of responsible minority opinion in such a newspaper represents an attack upon freedom of expression and an indirect attack upon academic freedom itself."

The University of Nebraska AAUP chapter has not yet taken any formal step in the controversy.

Bail Jumping Negro Minister From S.C. Attacked In N.Y. By Would-Be Lynchers

By Arthur Everett

New York — A Negro minister, who jumped bail to avoid imprisonment in South Carolina, was seized on a busy New York street Friday by 3 men whom he said were bent on lynching him. His wife's screams brought a crowd and the would-be abductors fled.

The victim, the Rev. Walter M. Cavers, 51, quoted one of his attackers as warning him: "If you be quiet, we won't kill you here. We're going to lynch you."

Cavers said a second man remonstrated: "Not Here. 'Don't kill him here. We'll kill him as soon as we get him out of here.'"

Cavers has been fighting extradition to Rock Hill, S.C., where is under sentence of 18 months for reckless driving in a traffic accident that killed a white man. He was described as an active integrationist there.

Only minutes before the street attack, the minister had won a further delay in his case, in which he has sought intervention from Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Cavers claimed to fear for his life if he is returned to South Carolina.

Cavers told the Queens District Attorney's office he recognized one of his white attackers as a friend of the dead man. A search was launched for the trio and Cavers, meanwhile, was assigned a bodyguard.

Punched

The minister said two of the men dragged him from his car in front of the Queens County Courthouse, one of them punching him in the face while a second brandished a gun. The third man, Cavers said, remained at the wheel of a station wagon into which the pair sought to drag him. The wagon had South Carolina license plates, Cavers added.

The scene of the attack outside the courthouse in Long Island City is one of the busiest areas in the city. It is a triangle of court buildings with hundreds of judges, lawyers, policemen and court attaches coming and going throughout the day.

Cavers originally was a minister in Charlotte, N.C. On March 18, 1958, his car collided with another in York, S.C., and William S. Dickson, 83, was killed in the accident.

High Speed

Witnesses testified the minister was driving at high speed and he was convicted of reckless homicide and sentenced to 18 months in prison. Contending he had not received a fair trial, Cavers appealed the conviction and was freed on $5,000 bond.

When the appeal failed, Cavers failed to report to begin his sentence and South Carolina authorities obtained a fugitive warrant for him. Cavers, meanwhile, came to New York last May. He had no church here but served as a guest preacher and lecturer. He remained active in integration matters.

Last November, Cavers' wife, Elizabeth, 32, and their daughter, Linda, 14, joined him here.

Fugitive

The minister was picked up early last month on the fugitive warrant. Extradition proceedings were begun by South Carolina but postponed the first time last Jan. 17 to permit an appeal to Gov. Rockefeller.

Cavers returned to court Friday and his lawyer asked a further delay, saying Rockefeller has the case under consideration but has not reached a decision. Judge Peter T. Farrell continued the minister in $3,500 bail and postponed his case to Feb. 23.

The Caverses left the courthouse and walked across the street to their parked car. They had just entered it, he said, when the two men approached from the station wagon parked directly behind him.

Cavers said one of the white men grabbed him and pulled him from the car, beating him in the face and directing a vile racial epithet at him. The other man, he claimed, brandished the gun.

The white men got the minister out of his car and were dragging him to the station wagon when his wife's screams attracted a crowd of passersby. The men then released Cavers and drove away.

HODGES BACKS 'TOURIST HUNT'

Washington — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges Friday endorsed legislation aimed at inducing foreign tourists to do their sightseeing in the United States.

The hope of Hodges and sponsors of the legislation is to reverse the flow of gold, sending it back to this country. Foreign sightseers would help by spending money here.

The legislation, considered by the Senate Commerce Committee Friday, would set up an office of international travel in the Commerce Department and give it $5 million a year for a program to attract foreign travelers.

Welton Conviction Is Affirmed By Supreme Court

The Nebraska Supreme Court Friday affirmed the Garfield County District Court conviction of Morgan D. Welton on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Welton was sentenced to 45 days in the county jail and fined $200 and costs on the charge.

In appealing to the supreme court, Welton's counsel contended that the girl who was the complaining witness was improperly questioned during the trial about a conversation she had with a safety patrolman after the incident on which the charge was based. Instructions to the jury also were challenged, but the supreme court found in the contentions no grounds for reversal.

Decision Reversed

Reversed and remanded was the Douglas County District Court decree in a mortgage foreclosure case in which Joseph A. Grasso was the plaintiff, and Adolph, Gladys and Joan Dean, State Finance Co., Postal Finance Co. and First Loan Co. were defendants. Grasso sought to foreclose a mortgage on the home owned by defendants Adolph and Gladys Dean, in which the three defendant corporations were alleged to claim some interest. The lower court decreed foreclosure.

The supreme court held that a note on which the mortgage action was based was void as to defendants

Adolph and Gladys Dean. As to defendant Joan Dean, the supreme court reversed the trial court and remanded the case for further proceedings.

The court held that "a disguised threat" was involved in the giving of the note and mortgage and the transaction was illegal and void.

In a third Douglas County case, the supreme court affirmed a divorce decree granted Serena Waldbaum from Sidney Waldbaum but ordered that the decree be modified with reference to its child support provisions.

Dear Abby-- Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am in my early 30's. I am married to a woman the same age. She is very young looking. In fact, she is constantly asked for her "I.D." card when we go where drinks are served.

Now for my problem: My hair has suddenly started to turn gray and I am beginning to look more like her father than her husband.

My barber suggested I let him dye it. He said he could do it to look so natural no one would know it was dyed. In your opinion would this be deceptive and morally wrong?

GRAYING FAST
DEAR GRAYING: It is no more "deceptive" or "morally wrong" for a man to dye his hair than a woman. Although in my opinion, gray hair doesn't "age" a man—it only makes him look more attractive. But black, red, green or gray . . . be glad you have enough to drag a comb through.

DEAR ABBY: How can I get a boy to like me better than any other girl? I am 14 and he is 15.

WANTS A BOY FRIEND
DEAR WANTS: Keep your hair smelling nice. Be pleasant to his friends. Laugh as if you mean it, but don't giggle. Let him know you like him, but don't want to "own" him. Talk about things he likes to talk about. Be an attentive listener. Dress like a girl. Don't try to make him jealous. Respect his freedom. Let him lead when you're dancing.

DEAR ABBY: Paul and I were married a year ago. He was divorced and had two sons who lived with their mother. I am expecting our first baby in May. Paul says if I have a boy he wants to name it Paul Jr. I don't want to because he already has a son named after himself. His first-born, Paul Jr., is now 8 years old and lives two blocks from us. Am I "stubborn, narrow-minded and small" for feeling this way?

PAUL'S SECOND WIFE
DEAR WIFE: No, I think you're sensible. Tell Paul he had better come up with another name. Only one "Junior" to a Papa.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a friend who burns me up. He has three children under eight, and he has made a habit of bringing them to our home, saying he has to "take the children out of his wife's hair for a while."

He has kept those children up until 10:30 at night. My husband calls me "unreasonable" when I say if this friend wants to take the children out of his wife's hair he should entertain them in a park or somewhere. I am 58 and can't stand the noise. The last time my husband entertained them in our garage because they were getting in my hair. What do you think of this?

IN MY HAIR
DEAR IN: Children 8 years old and younger don't belong in a park, a garage or anywhere except their own beds after eight in the evening. Your husband is foolish for allowing his friend to bring them and he is unfair to expect you to put up with it. If hubby is too timid to educate his friend—it's up to you.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DESPERATE AND UNDER AGE": Send me your name and address at once and I will send you the name and address of a free Home For Unwed Mothers immediately. This will be strictly between us.

"What's your problem?"
For a personal reply from Abby, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby in care of this paper.

The bidding:
East Pass South West North
Pass 1NT Pass 3NT

Opening lead — six of diamonds.

It is a bad proposition for declarer to put himself to a guess in the play of a particular hand, if he has at his command a way of avoiding the guess.

Here is a case where it is easy for declarer to go wrong unless he takes proper precautions to avoid a guess.

Let's say West leads a diamond and South wins the jack with the king. Declarer sees he has only five immediate winners and that he must therefore establish both his hearts and clubs if he is to make the contract.

The hearts and clubs are equal in strength and can each develop three tricks by forcing out the ace. But the fate of the hand depends upon which suit declarer attacks first.

Thus, if South leads the king of clubs at trick two, he goes down. East takes the ace, returns a diamond, and West's long suit becomes established as soon as declarer wins the ace. South has only eight tricks available and whenever he gets around to leading hearts, West grabs the ace and runs his diamonds to defeat the contract.

But if declarer attacks hearts at trick two, he makes the hand. This is because he removes West's entry card before the diamonds are established, and West therefore ceases to be a threat. South can make eleven tricks if he guesses to start with hearts instead of clubs.

However, South should not subject himself to this grueling choice. All he has to do to avoid it is let East win the opening diamond lead. Then, regardless of how the defense goes, or whether South attacks hearts or clubs first, he winds up with ten tricks.

The hold-up play breaks an important link in the defenders' communications. If East gets in first (with a club), he does not have a diamond to return, while if West gets in first (with a heart), he is left without an entry to run his suit after he establishes it.

Hi Gang!
Wednesday afternoon, the Knight swimmers ended their third perfect swimming season. With a capacity crowd at the LSE pool, the Knights won every single individual event to total a 55-31 victory. Yesterday the Southeast team traveled across town to Northeast for the Mid-East meet. A major step to become STATE CHAMPS!

Highlighting International Club's meeting Wednesday was AFS student Seng Lim telling about Cambodia's music, costumes and dances. During the meeting the club members were shown dances and pictures and heard Cambodian music via tape recordings.

CONGRATULATIONS! Lincoln Southeast wrestlers are the city champions. The wrestlers defeated Northeast

Tuesday to clinch the city title compiling a 30-11 win. Today, the LSE matmen host the Bellevue Chieftains in the Southeast gym at 4 p.m. Don't miss it!

Last evening the Knight basketball squad met LHS at the PSAB. Tonight, playing on their home court, the Knights host the Jeffs from Fairbury. Game time at LSE is 8 p.m.

Synkra-Knights will be selling homemade cookies at the LSE-Fairbury game tonight. The money they earn will help finance their water show scenery. Yum, yum!

At the Sno Ball Dance sponsored by Y-Teens last week, Sno Ball princesses and attendants were announced. Senior Julie Phelps was crowned Princess while Kay Cirkensa, also a senior, was her attendant.

Brides Book

Making announcement of her bridal party this morning is Miss Elizabeth Kobza, who will marry Virgil Janacek on Saturday, Feb. 11. The 11 o'clock ceremony will take place at Blessed Sacrament Church.

For her honor attendant, Miss Kobza has chosen Miss Rosemary Berniklau, and Mrs. James Zavodny will be her bridesmatron. Miss Margie Kobza will be the bridesmaid for her sister's wedding.

Miss Lynn Kobza will be the flower girl and the ring-bearer will be Ken Kobza.

Serving as best man will be Dennis Maref, and seating the guests will be James Zavodny and the brother of the bride, Michael Kobza.

Also announcing her bridal party this morning is Miss Myrna Kay Vaughn, who will become the bride of Michael Kaczmarczyk on Saturday, Feb. 11, in a 10 o'clock ceremony at Holy Family Church.

Miss Vaughn has chosen her sister, Mrs. Marvin James of Topeka, Kan., to be her matron of honor, and Miss Ruthann Waller will be the bridesmaid. Miss Mary Ellen Vaughn, also a sister of the bride-elect, will be the flower girl.

Serving as best man will be Tony Franco, and seating the guests will be Paul Thomas and Dennis Gregg, both of Topeka, Kan.

On Wednesday evening, Feb. 8, Miss Ruthann Waller will entertain at a dessert supper and miscellaneous shower at her home in Miss Vaughn's honor.

A busy February bride-elect is Miss Janice Jorgensen, who will become the bride of Robert Farrell. Miss Jorgensen was presented with a one-gift shower at a dessert supper Tuesday evening given by Mrs. J. P. McWilliams at her home.

The wedding of Miss Jorgensen and Mr. Farrell will take place at a 10 o'clock ceremony on Saturday, Feb. 11, at St. Teresa's Church.

Fun News In Suburbia

PATRICIAN HEIGHTS

The newest member of the bassinet brigade in suburbia is David Allen Fusselman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fusselman, who was born on Saturday, Jan. 28, at St. Elizabeth Hospital. David has two older brothers, Jerry and Stephen.

Mrs. Fusselman is the former Kathleen Nosky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Nosky of North Platte. The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Fusselman, reside in Bristow.

Moving from the suburb and Wilshire Blvd. this week were Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Stevens, Jr., and their four children, Billy, Marcia, Carol, and Danny. They are now residing at 2743 No. 46th.

And on this evening's party calendar we find that Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Stemm will entertain eight couples for an evening of dancing and cards, followed by a mid-night supper. Their guest list will include Dr. and Mrs. Jack Knodle, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Ress, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Brockley, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Steinacher, Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Wilkinson, Dr. and Mrs. Dick Bradley, Dr. and Mrs. Bill Best, and Dr. and Mrs. George Reich-enbach.

PARK MANOR

Looking ahead to Monday evening we find that a former suburbia resident, Mrs. John Allen, will be entertaining the members of a Park Manor bridge club at her quarters at the Lincoln Air Force Base.

Arriving in Lincoln on Friday, Jan. 27, for a visit was Mrs. Iva McElhinney, who lives in Morning Sun, Ia. Mrs. McElhinney, who is the houseguest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hal DeGood, will be on hand to help her granddaughter, Martha, celebrate her eighth birthday anniversary on Thursday, Feb. 9.

And Thursday afternoon, Martha will serve refreshments to the members of her choir group following rehearsal at Eastridge Presbyterian Church as part of the day's celebration.

Understand that some new neighbors in suburbia are Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Beadle and their children, Ed, Jr., Patty, and Tommy. Formerly residing at 4820 Randolph, their new address is 2010 Diana Dr.

Also should note this morning that Capt. and Mrs. Victor H. Pelto and their family have moved from 2040 E.

Manor Dr. Their mail is being forwarded to their new quarters, 232 Fairchild Circle, at Offutt Air Force Base in Omaha.

News from the talcum powder set tells of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall. The young man, as yet unnamed, was born on Sunday, Jan. 29, at Lincoln General Hospital, and has an older sister, Heidi.

Mrs. Hall is the former Rosalie Zahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Zahn of Syracuse. Mr. and Mrs. George Sharpnack are the paternal grandparents.

Evening Ceremony

Miss Clarice Heiden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erich Heiden of Benedict, became the bride of Don Drou, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Drou, at a candle-light service solemnized Friday evening, Feb. 3, at Redeemer Lutheran Church.

The lines of the ceremony were read by the Rev. Melvin J. Tassler, and Miss Rena Olson, organist, played the wedding music and accompanied the vocal soloist, Dennis Heiden of Benedict, brother of the bride.

Miss Norma Jean Reetz was her cousin's maid of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Karen Drou, sister of the bridegroom. Their silk organza frocks in the azalea tone were sashed in matching satin, and they completed their ensembles with tiny hats of white fur and bouquets of white carnations.

Miss Wanda Ehlers, Waco, was the flower girl, and lighting the candles were Miss Janice Heiden and Douglas Heiden, Benedict, sister and brother of the bride.

Serving as best man was Elroy Frank, and the ushers were Wayne Glasser of Madison, Gene Holle and Larry Thompson.

The bride appeared in a gown of white lace and tulle. Iridescent sequins and pearls patterned the lace to frame the Sabrina neckline of the long-sleeved bodice, and the lace skirt tapered from a peplum effect to floor length at the back above an under-skirt of lace-appliqued tulle. Her illusion veil was held by a pillbox cap of jeweled lace, and she carried a cascade of white feathered carnations. The couple will reside at 1234 So. 15th.

Wedding On Friday

MRS. WILLIAM H. FICKE

The chancel of Grace Lutheran Church was appointed with white gladioli and crimson carnations on Friday evening, Feb. 3, for the marriage of Miss Gloria Marie Bennesen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Bennesen, to William H. Ficke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Ficke. The 8 o'clock ceremony was solemnized by Dr. Leland H. Leshner, and Miss Betty Eggerling, organist, played the wedding music.

The maid of honor and bride's only attendant was Miss Sandra Peterson, who wore a princess frock of crimson velvet fashioned in the daytime length. She carried a bouquet of gardenias. The flower girl was Miss Jean Anderson of Stromsburg.

Martin Bassett served Mr. Ficke as best man, and seating the guests were Gene Kellogg, Doyle Kerns and Richard Sutton.

The bride chose for her wedding a gown of white brocade in the after-five length.

The sculptured basque was designed with a rounded decolletage and fitted, elbow-length sleeves, and the skirt flared into hemline width. Her circlet veil of illusion was held by pearl crown, and she carried a white Bible clustered with red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Ficke left for a wedding trip to New Orleans, after which they will make their home in Lincoln. The bride is a former student at the Lincoln School of Commerce.

News from Stockton, Calif., tells of the arrival on Wednesday, Feb. 1, of Ronald Lee Rudolph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Rudolph. Mrs. Rudolph is the former Marjorie Avrit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Avrit of Chico, Calif. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rudolph.

BY GERI ROBERTS
Last Tuesday evening 100 IAFB mothers marched against crippling diseases. The words of Virginia Christopherson resound the feelings hidden in each mother's heart. "If we can render charity and peace, to those who suffer mind or body pain, and comfort those whose mourning does not cease, our efforts here shall not have been in vain." Their efforts certainly were not in vain for Mrs. Doris Smith, Colonel of the drive, reports that the March of Dimes was very successful.

Another big success was the Air Force Association party held "behind the green doors" in the Officers Club. Gov. and Mrs. Frank Morrison were the honored guests and dancing was to the music of the Air Force Band from Offutt. Also enjoying the SAC band's music were members of the 424th Bomb Squadron. Refreshments prior to the dinner were the courtesy of Lt. Lester Shobe and Captains, Roger Beamer, Earl Buys, Don Daly, Jerry Dove, Jose Guerra, George Nicoloff, Al Marinich and Cliff Roberts.

While many socialized Saturday night, three wives found "Saturday Night is the Loneliest Night of the Week". Their husbands, Lt. Neal Harmon, Maj. Ralph McKay, and Capt. Les Walrath took 20 Boy Scouts to Minis Kuya on an overnight "camp-out". Old man weather cooperated by warming the temperature to five degrees below zero so the boys could study the stars.

Meanwhile, two families took advantage of the interim between semesters to take short trips. Maj. and Mrs. Arthur Stokes spent a few days in Omaha while Lt. Col. and Mrs. Virgil West chose to visit relatives in Topeka and Kansas City, Kan.

More parties — One group decided the NCO Club was a good place to further international relations. Sweden was well represented by Miss Kjell Halleburg; Norway by Mr. Inger Skogmo, and LAFB by T-Sgt. and Mrs. Herbert Gibson and T-Sgt. and Mrs. Ambrosia Blake.

Twenty friends gathered at the Officers Club to tell Major Art Handel goodbye. Maj. Handel has gone TDY to Mather AFB, Calif. Mrs. Handel will join him later at Wurtsmith AFB, Michigan. The 343rd Bomb Squadron hosted a farewell party for Maj. and Mrs. Robert Robinson. Major Robinson's new assignment is Carswell AFB, Texas.

Last Sunday "Happy Birthday to You" rang out merrily from the quarters of Capt. and Mrs. Jerry Custer. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pledger came from Council Bluffs, Ia., so that Mrs. Pledger and her nephew, Doug Custer, could celebrate their birthdays jointly. Spending the weekend with Capt. and Mrs. Arnold Austin were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Austin of Omaha. The Austins are brothers.

Bridge anyone? Guests of Mrs. Gretchen Larrabee at a dessert bridge were Mrs. Martha Maish, Mrs. Jane Arnold, Mrs. Harriett West, Mrs. Shirley Gates, Mrs. Mona Green, Mrs. Ginger Loughran and Gretchen's mother, Mrs. Daisy Manuel. Capt. and Mrs. Dick Foster also entertained friends with a bridge party. Progressing from table to table were Capt. and Mrs. Richard Carver and Lts. and Mmes. Donald Brown, Carl Dranke, Dean Smith and Leon Tuttle.

Lt. Col. Ray Scully and Major Richard Newell managed to escape the Pentagon maze for a short visit with Major and Mrs. John Phillips. Lt. and Mrs. Dean Roelle entertained several friends over the week end too.

Canapes at the home of Mrs. William C. Garland preceded a birthday dinner held at the Officers Club in honor of Mrs. Adna Godson. Co-hostesses of the very lovely affair were Mrs. Garland, Mrs. Paul Hyland, and Mrs. Lee Liggett.

Eighteen ladies met at the home of Mrs. Rose Scott for hot rolls and coffee. The women were the Girl Scout Troop Leaders and Co-leaders of Neighborhood No. 5 which includes all of LAFB and Husberville.

"I'm getting sentimental over you..." As the strains of the music played by the Jimmy Dorsey band wafted throughout the Officers Club last night, those present had themselves a ball. Incidentally, Flight C is keeping the theme a secret but the 98th ARS party is scheduled to commence at 7 p.m. tonight at the Officers Club.

Announcement is made this morning by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cletcher of Kar-nak, Ill., of the marriage of their daughter, Shirley Jean, to Wendell W. Harding Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell W. Harding.

The ceremony took place on Friday afternoon, Feb. 3, in the Chapel of the First Christian Church, with the Rev. Charles L. Wilson solemnizing the service.

Attendants were Mrs. Leon Adama, and Wendell W. Harding Sr.

Mr. Harding is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and now is a member of The Lincoln Star reportorial staff.

Red Cross Open House

The Lancaster County Chapter of the American Red Cross has moved into new headquarters at 1701 E. and will mark the event with an open house.

The affair will be held at the new headquarters on Sunday, Feb. 12, and guests have been invited to call between the hours of 2 o'clock and 5 o'clock.

Regional Meeting

Honoring officers of the North Central Region of Soroptimist Clubs, who will be in Lincoln next Saturday, Feb. 11, a luncheon will be held at 12:15 o'clock, at the Hotel Cornhusker.

The officers will be attending a series of regional board meetings of Soroptimists and Venturists to make plans for the 35th conference of the region, to be held in Lincoln, April 21, 22 and 23.

Honored guests will be

Mrs. Virginia Shepherdson, Sioux Falls, S.D., regional governor; and officers, Miss Harriet Kelley, Winona, Minn.; Miss Ardis Loupee, Newton, Ia.; Dr. Sue C. Stevens, Lincoln; and Mrs. Inez Hutchison, Perry, Ia.

The Soroptimist Club of Lincoln will be hostess for the spring conference, and representing the Lincoln club at the board meeting will be Mrs. Jo Jensen Bonebright, Mrs. C. M. Stewart and Miss Anna M. Evans.

Clubs Plan Busy Week

Mrs. H. B. Miller will be hostess on Monday, to the members of the Lancaster County MEDICAL AUXILIARY at her home, 3910 So. 40th.

The program will be given by Norman A. Geske, director of the University of Nebraska art galleries.

Mrs. J. T. McGreer, Jr., and Mrs. K. T. McGinnis will be in charge of the 12:45 o'clock affair and will be assisted by Mrs. R. C. Brauer, Mrs. J. M. Boykin, Mrs. E. B. Brooks, Mrs. Schuyler Brown, Mrs. J. C. Clyne, Mrs. Frank Cole, Mrs. Richard E. Garlinghouse, Mrs. Louis J. Gogela, Mrs. J. W. Hervert, Mrs. E. T. Hobbs, Mrs. D. D. McLean, Mrs. Harold S. Morgan, Mrs.

James I. Podlesak, Mrs. Harry D. Shaffer, Mrs. R. F. Statton, Mrs. F. A. Stewart, Mrs. F. H. Tanner, Mrs. B. F. Wendt, Mrs. H. H. Whitlock and Mrs. R. A. Youngman.

The annual Charter Day dinner of ST. LEGER COWLEY Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be held at 6:30 o'clock, Tuesday evening, in the Lincoln Room of the Hotel Cornhusker.

Following the dinner, a program will be presented by Mrs. Grant A. Ackerman, state regent of the Nebraska Society of DAR.

Mrs. Henry M. Cox is chairman of the hostess committee and will be assisted by Mrs. L. E. Stradley, Mrs. J. E. Arter and Mrs. E. A. Wing.

Included among the members and guests attending will be the chapter's delegates to the Continental Congress of DAR, to be held in Washington, D.C., the week of April 17. The delegates are Mrs. R. B. McCandless, regent; Mrs. Paul A. Koontz, vice regent; Mrs. Ben R. Hitch; and Miss Edna Gabus, alternate.

Guest of honor on Friday at the luncheon and program of DEBORAH AVERY Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held at the Hotel Cornhusker, was Miss Andra Baumanis, who won the chapter's annual Good Citizens essay contest. Also a guest was Miss Nancy Yeager, essay winner from Southeast High School.

Program speaker was Capt. O. H. Witt of the state Safety Patrol, and a program of songs was presented by Mrs. Brien Hendrickson, accompanied by Mrs. C. G. Hrubesky.

Named delegates to the Continental Congress in Washington, D.C., in April, were Mrs. Guy M. Harris, regent, Mrs. Robert Wekeser and Mrs. Tom Swearingen, with alternates, Mrs. William M. Folger, Mrs. Clarence DeBord, Mrs. William L. Deneke, Mrs. Elizabeth Edmonds, Mrs. O. E. Kingery and Mrs. J. E. McLafferty.

Representing the chapter at the state DAR convention at Columbus, March 26 to 28, will be Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Levi Gay, Mrs. Philip E. Hall, Mrs. T. H. Goodding, Mrs. Gerald Rosenberger and Mrs. James Looker. Alternates will be Mrs. Folger, Miss Lulu Abbott, Mrs. Swearingen, Mrs. H. C. Filley, Mrs. McLafferty, Mrs. Helen Wallace, Mrs. Wekeser, Mrs. DeBord, Mrs. Fred N. Wells, Mrs. B. C. McLean, Mrs. Clifford Schreff and Miss Irma Jean Croft.

Meeting at the active chapter house on Friday evening will be the alumnae of ZETA TAU ALPHA sorority. The meeting will follow a 6:30 o'clock covered dish dinner. In charge of arrangements will be the social committee of which Mrs. Dale Hayes is chairman.

VETS ROSSMILLER, LARCHICK FEATURED

Golden Gloves Gets Underway

...JENKINS GETS FAST KAYO

A pair of ring veterans captured the spotlight Friday night as the Southeast Nebraska District Golden Gloves championships got underway at Pershing Auditorium.

Stan Larchick, local favorite, took only 38 seconds to dispose of Clay Campbell of Falls City. Eldon Rossmiller of Fairbury unloaded some heavy guns as he belted Alfred Reel of Lincoln to submission in 1:41 of the first round.

The fastest KO of the night went to Faber Jenkins, Nebraska wrestler who put on boxing trunks for the first time

One Blow

Dave Wicken eluded Jenkins for 15 seconds, but one blow ended the fight once Jenkins made contact.

Jim Roode and Ben Priebe, both of Fairbury, but fighting out of the Larry Emery stable, put on a real battle in the light-heavyweight division.

Roode picked up a KO with 43 seconds gone in the final round.

Willie Curry, defending champion in the 118 pound class, got a decision over game Archie Mackey of Falls City.

Toogood Beaten

Gary Toogood was another Cornhusker trying a second sport, but he didn't have luck—or the Sunday punch—like Jenkins.

Toogood, a varsity griddier at Nebraska, lost by TKO at 1:13 of the third round to Larry Plachy.

Finals in all divisions will be held tonight at Pershing starting at 8:30.

Featherweight—Eugene Acosta, Emery, TKO over Larry Walker, Emery, 1:02, second round.

Bantamweight—Faber Jenkins, Emery, knocked out David Wicken, Emery, 28, first round; Willie Curry, Emery, Dec. Archie Mackey, Falls City.

Welterweight—Bill Goergen, Pentzer Park, knocked out Alfred Reel, Emery, 2:00, third round; Stan Larchick, Emery, knocked out Clay Campbell, Falls City, 38, first round; Kenny Knauber, Emery, dec. Keith Kimbrough, Emery.

Light-heavyweight—Al Phillips, Emery, dec. Bob Sellards, Pentzer Park; Don Rasmussen, Peterson, dec. Richard Kresbach, Emery; Eldon Rossmiller, Fairbury, knocked out Alfred Reel, Emery, 1:41, first round.

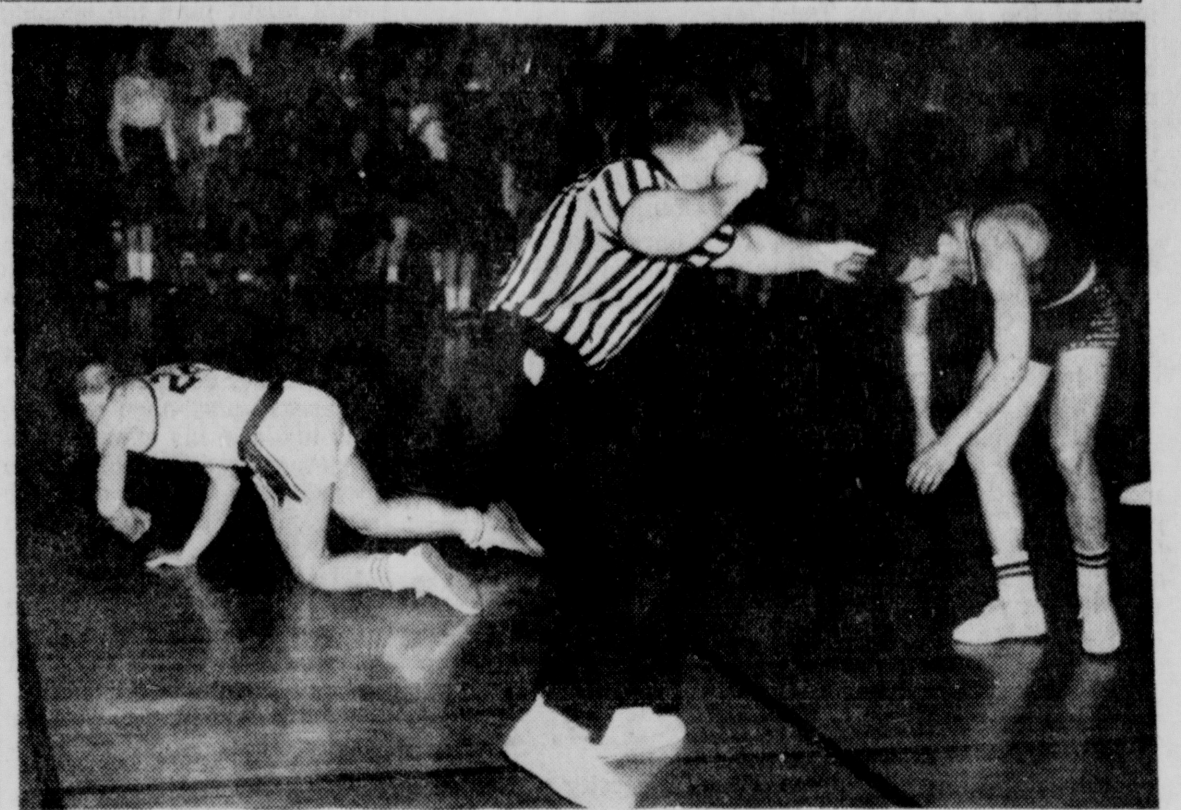

Heavyweight—Larry Plachy, Lohar, TKO over Gary Toogood, Emery, 1:13, third round.

Links Get 63-56 Revenge On SE

...HOT 3RD PERIOD DECIDES ISSUE

By Larry Novicki
Lincoln High defeated Southeast, 63-56, Friday night in an intra-city basketball game that wasn't too close for once.

A big 3rd quarter did the trick for the Links, giving them revenge for an earlier 35-34 loss to Southeast.

The Links, led by Gary Haas, Bobby Williams and Bob Vaughn, outscored Southeast, 23-11 in the 3rd quarter.

They weren't in trouble after that.

The first two periods made it look as if another barn-burner was in the making.

Southeast led, 7-6, at the end of the plucky first quarter.

LHS Surges

Then LHS got hot to surge to a 7-point lead halfway through the second quarter.

Ron Blood and Vaughn each went all the way with stolen passes and Haas added a 3-pointer in the spree.

But Southeast was right back in there.

With less than two minutes to go in the half, Rick Akin tallied 7 points on 3 long, left-handed pushers and a free throw to tie the game at 24-24.

Haas tipped in a missed free throw at the buzzer to give the Links a 26-24 half-time margin.

Then came the hot 3rd quarter. Lincoln High stretched its lead minute by minute and finished the quarter with a 49-35 advantage.

Southeast's Jack Cramer scored 9 points in the last quarter as the Knights chopped 7 points off the Lincoln lead.

Cramer's last second 3-pointer brought the Knights as close as they'd been since midway in the 3rd quarter.

Lincoln High was vicious under the boards the first half. Haas and Williams had the rebounds sewed up but couldn't cash in on their shots until after intermission.

Cramer High

Cramer was high for the night with 25 points, followed by Haas with 23.

Southeast entertains Fairbury tonight and Lincoln High goes to Omaha North for a battle to keep in 3rd place in the Inter-City Conference.

NU Track Squad Makes '61 Debut

Coach Frank Seigne sends his 1961 edition of the Nebraska track team against Oklahoma State today in an indoor dual meet at Memorial Stadium.

Field events begin at 2 with running events at 2:30. The sophomore laden Cornhuskers were hurt by the loss of two thinclads because of scholastic difficulties.

Ron Moore, outstanding sophomore hurdler from Washington, D.C., and Dick Kier, middle distance runner from New York, are ineligible for the second semester.

The loss of Kier weakened Nebraska's distance hopes which already were dimmed after the loss of Joe Mullins and Joe American Horse.

Several meet records will be in jeopardy today, many of them by returning record holders.

Included are NU shotputter Al Wellman, broad jumper Bob Knaub, hurdler Milt Haedt and Cowboys Terry Covert in the hurdles and Sammy Pegues, the Big 8 Conference high jump champion.

Frigid Tutors Lose To Hebron, 45-29

...UNI HITS 12% FIRST 3 PERIODS

By Al Beebe
University High played 3 periods of icy basketball Friday night, and that was enough for Hebron to score an easy 45-29 victory in a battle of rated Class B teams.

The Bears had no difficulty in racking up their 10th win in 12 games. The Tutors, ranked 6th to Hebron's 7th spot, are now 6-5.

Uni was so cold it took 6 minutes before Rick Olson hit the first field goal. For 3 periods, the Tutors hit on only 5 of 40 shots for a miserable 12 per cent.

Hebron had its own first quarter troubles, canning but 3 of 10 and waiting 5 minutes for a fielder. But after that the Bears cracked Uni's zone from outside and inside and wound up at 47% for the night on 17 of 36.

Wide Leads

The shooting difference boosted Hebron into a 22-10 lead midway in the second quarter, with halftime 22-14. An 8-point string opening the 3rd quarter boosted Hebron's margin to 30-14.

Uni caught fire briefly early in the 4th period, and a press bothered Hebron, but only for a few minutes. The flurry allowed Uni to cut the gap to 12 points, but that was all.

Free throws and some fast break buckets against the press let Hebron outscore Uni, 13-12, even in the 4th period.

Too Late

The Tutors found their eyes for 5 of 11 from the field in that final stanza, but it was much too little and too late.

Dennis Dondlinger, 6-4 transfer from Shickley, paced the Bears. He scored 20 points and topped rebounding, along with rugged 6-1 Gene Bowen.

The pair effectively controlled the boards on defense most of the way.

Rusty Russell hit 10 points for Hebron, including 8 in the first half. His outside shooting made it easier for Dondlinger.

Couldn't Hit

University High had plenty of good shots, mostly outside but often in close, but just couldn't connect. Olson wound up with 11 and Charlie Hellerich hit 10, with only 3 baskets, two of them tip-ins.

The 10 points was the lowest point total of the year for Hellerich, who led city scorers this week with a 19.9 average.

The Tutors have another tough test tonight at Crete, ranked 8th by The Star.

Uni High reserves had better luck against Hebron, scoring a 53-43 win.

—PIUS TAKES 59-49 WIN—

Thunderbolts Beat Omahans

The Pius X Thunderbolts struck for its 3rd straight win here Friday night downing a stubborn Omaha Bishop Ryan team, 59-49.

The Bolts roared off to a 14-4 first quarter lead and quickly moved it to 25-8 with 4:28 left in the second period. Pius was led by sharp-shooting Larry Champoux's 10 points to obtain this bluge.

The Knights came back and pulled within 6 points with 4 minutes gone in the second half. Ryan was paced by juniors Joe Cascio and Richard Vacek.

With these boys continuing to be hot the Ryan club almost took over the ball game when they came within 4 points with 1:53 left in the third quarter.

Joe Kortus eased the Bolts back into a comfortable margin within 30 seconds.

Mistakes were the key factors in the Omahans' defeat. The Ryan boys kept missing easy shots, were called for traveling violations, and couldn't hang on to the ball after rebounds.

Pius then moved away in the last of the third quarter despite the loss of their ace Champoux via the foul route. Joe Gaughan directed the steady, hustling Pius attack with board work from Kortus, and Tom Neal.

Larry Champoux finished the game with 13 points as did Kortus. Gaughan collected 12 and Dave Minick hit 11.

Cascio counted 13 for Ryan while Vacek potted 10 and Jim Dahir 9.

The Thunderbolts now have 7-4 mark and Ryan is now at 5-10 with a 5-5 record.

Hastings Pops Hopes Of Kearney

Hastings (AP)—Hastings cut loose a strong second half drive and whipped Kearney 78-69 to keep the losing Antelope from a tie with Peru for the Nebraska College Conference basketball lead.

Peru is 6-1 after beating Doane Thursday night and Kearney is now 5-2.

Hastings broke a 37-all half-time tie and led by Jim Peterson, who hit 22 points, drove to a resounding victory. The Broncos had 3 other players scoring in double figures. Eldon Benson topped Kearney with 20.

Action Planned On Park Levy Bill

The Revenue Committee Friday informally agreed to take action next Thursday on LB208, the bill which would increase the state park development levy to .35 mills.

Action was taken in executive session to withdraw a pending motion to advance the measure to the floor.

Thus, the committee will "start from scratch" next week in considering the bill.

It was heard in public hearing Thursday.

In other action, the committee heard, amended and advanced two tax refund bills to the floor of the Legislature.

Another measure, LB193, was heard and held.

Refunds Penalties

LB166, introduced by Sen. Hal Bredenberg of Dakota City, provides for refund of penalties collected by 1959 tax laws since declared unconstitutional.

Under terms of the bill, as amended, a taxpayer may apply for refund of the penalties within 9 months after effective date of the act.

The county treasurer would then have 9 months in which to refund the money. Provisions are also made for the taxpayer to sue for collection.

Penalties imposed by the 1959 intangible tax law, known as LB51, were unequal in different taxing districts, and thus declared invalid and unconstitutional.

Highway Fund Release Won't Affect Nebraska

By Betty Person

President Kennedy's order to give the states the balance of the highway trust fund "doesn't actually mean any additional money will be available to Nebraska," Acting State Engineer John Hossack said Friday.

The presidential order means the states will receive immediately the funds they would have obtained the last quarter of the present fiscal year, the engineer explained.

"It doesn't really make very much difference to us," Hossack said, because Nebraska's road building program is going according to schedule.

It will be a help to those states which have had to hold up contract lettings because of lack of funds, however, Hossack said.

Nebraska had received a total allocation of $44,202,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1961.

Under contract controls, Nebraska and the other states were scheduled to receive their allocations on a quarterly basis.

The money released by Kennedy is that which the state would have received in April. Nebraska's share is $10,972,000.

Hossack said the federal government has been releasing the quarterly funds "a little ahead of time" for the past several months.

Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges Friday wired all the state governors urging them to speed up highway construction "to the fullest extent possible as a result of the availability of these funds."

Two bills related to county government were killed Friday by the Nebraska Legislature's Committee on the Judiciary.

LB139, introduced by Sens. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island, George Syas of Omaha and Marvin Stromer of Lincoln, would have authorized counties with 25,000 to 200,000 population to make the positions of county attorney and deputy county attorney full-time jobs.

The bill was killed on a 4-3 vote after opposing testimony from Gerald Buehler of Hall County, representing the Nebraska County Attorneys Association.

LB203, introduced by Sen. Lautenschlager, would have assessed against the counties the costs of misdemeanor cases instituted in justice courts by county attorneys.

The committee also advanced a bill to the floor, LB141, introduced by Sens. William Brandt of Unadilla and Joe Vosoba of Wilber, and held another for further action, LB192, introduced by Sen. Vosoba.

LB141 would revise workmen's compensation law to clarify the time limit on actions where dependents are physically or mentally incapacitated.

LB192 would authorize justices of the peace to release persons on bail.

Lancaster County Assessor Arthur M. Davis said 349 taxpayers in his county paid penalties totaling $39,163 under the law in 1959.

Lancaster County Treasurer C. E. Berg also appeared in favor of the bill.

Vote to advance was 7-0. LB256, introduced by Sen. Ernest H. Staubitz of Kearney, provides for tax refunds as a result of clerical error by the state or its political subdivisions.

Such provision is now made only for errors by county officials.

The bill was advanced, 7-0. Held pending possible action by the Budget Committee was LB193, removing a provision of a 1959 law requiring the state to purchase land north of the Capitol between 14th and 16th and K and M.

The area includes a Catholic church, a Catholic school, the Masonic Temple and a large insurance building.

None of the bills drew opposition.

CD Director Not Giving Up Shelter Plan

Richard Vestecka, director of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Civil Defense Organization, admitted a setback in plans to obtain permissive legislation which would allow cities to require the construction of fallout shelters in all new homes and buildings.

His attempts to have one of the 3 Lincoln state senators or Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton introduce such a bill in the Legislature went unheeded. The deadline for introduction of bills by senators is past.

"We haven't given up yet," Vestecka said, "and it is the thinking of the committee that we should indicate to the state Civil Defense Director that this legislation should be pushed."

Vestecka and the Lincoln-Lancaster County CD Advisory Committee discussed the next steps that must be taken to obtain state approval of the program so that cities of the metropolitan, primary and first class can then move to implement the plan to require fallout shelters in all new construction.

Vestecka admits that "the chances of the bill being passed were pretty dim, but this doesn't mean that we don't need the measure and that it should not be discussed."

On the state level, Vestecka said, the bill which he drafted and tried to have introduced would simply have been a permissive measure to proceed with local action on the matter.

In order to be considered now, the bill must be submitted by a committee or by the Governor's office, Vestecka explained.

"I have no quarrel with individuals," he added, "but I do want the program to succeed. We need it."

CD Officials Study Fund Requirements

State Civil Defense officials met Friday with representatives of local groups obtaining federal matching funds for CD administrative purposes in order to explain federal requirements.

The state CD office and 7 local groups have been granted federal matching funds for $50,100 of expenditures from Jan. 1 through June 30.

Austin Bacon, CD state deputy director, reported that 70% of the matching funds for the period have now been received by the state and will be distributed to the local groups.

Donald E. Smith, CD business and fiscal officer, led the workshop sessions held at the National Guard Armory, explaining the necessary procedures in obtaining the funds.

Bacon commented that although the program ends June 30, "there is no reason to believe it won't be continued by the present Congress and Administration."

He added that there is a possibility that other local groups might be able to enter the program for the 3-month period starting April 1.

Presently receiving funds under the program are Civil Defense groups from Norfolk-Madison County, North Platte-Lincoln County, Grand Island-Hall County, Lincoln-Lancaster County, Omaha-Douglas County, Pawnee County and Scotts Bluff County.

Nebraska Vets Will Receive $2 Million Early Dividends

Dividends amounting to almost $2 million will be paid to Nebraska World War I and II veterans earlier this year as a result of presidential direction on 1961 life insurance dividend payments.

President Kennedy asked that the dividends be paid as quickly as possible in a move to aid the nation's economy. Ordinarily only half are paid by June 30.

According to Lincoln VA Regional Office Manager A. H. Duxbury, all of the checks going to the eligible 37,470 World War I and II veterans will be sent this winter, well in advance of June 30.

The $1,914,750 coming to the 37,470 veterans with participating life insurance policies averages about $51. However dividend payments will vary, Duxbury said.

Eligible veterans were warned that letters seeking information on specific dividend amounts will only slow up the process of getting out the checks.

"Each inquiry means some staff member will have to take time out to answer the letter," Duxbury said.

Duxbury explained that this is not a handout to veterans, but a dividend return to those who have this insurance.

The dividends have occurred primarily from the death rate being much lower than the rate upon which premiums were established by law.

More than 5 million veterans throughout the United States will share in the 1961 dividend distribution of $258.5 million.

About 50% of Nebraska's dividend participating veterans reside in Lincoln and Omaha, Duxbury said.

Petitions On Fluoridation Are Certified

Petitions to place the Lincoln water fluoridation issue on the May city ballot were certified Friday as signed by 2,763 qualified voters—some 137 more than were legally needed.

The legal minimum needed was 2,626 or 5% of the 52,523 registered voters at the last general city election.

Election Commissioner Fred J. Cassidy certified that 2,763 qualified voters signed the petitions containing 3,234 signatures.

His report additionally showed 183 unqualified or duplicate signatures, 196 questioned, and 92 not checked because the circulator failed to sign the petition sheet.

Mayor Pat Boyles said the petitions appear to be sufficient from the certification and that formal action of the City Council would probably be taken Monday on placing the issue on the ballot.

The initiative proposal would give the City of Lincoln the authority to adjust the fluoride content of the city's water supply to between 1 and 1.5 parts of fluoride per 1,000,000 parts of water.

Legislature Advances State Education Aid Bill

A bill increasing the maximum of state aid for education and therapy of physically and mentally handicapped children survived its major floor test in Nebraska's Legislature Friday.

Advanced from general file on a 36-0 vote was LB164, which increases the limit on state school aid for physically handicapped from $400 to $600 per year; for mentally handicapped, from $200 to $300 a year.

Before being sent on its way to likely final passage the act was amended 32-2 on a motion of Sen. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth to prohibit a servicing school district from collecting more than the per pupil cost.

The measure was sponsored by Sens. Willard Waldo of DeWitt, George H. Fleming of Sidney, George Syas of Omaha and Fern Orme of Lincoln.

Also approved in a first floor test was LB173 sponsored by Sen. M. M. Forrester of Anselmo. It extends to school land leaseholders the same privilege as that given deeded landholders to petition to place land in a different school district if specified requirements are met.

Altogether 22 bills were moved off general file at the week-ending session. Most were judiciary committee bills, either correcting and harmonizing laws as suggested by the revisor of statutes, or refining laws related to corporations as proposed by a committee of the Nebraska Bar Association. There wasn't a squabble in the bunch.

One of the routine measures, LB57, authorizes the revision of statutes to reissue volumes 1 and 1-A of the Nebraska statutes, in keeping with the practice of putting out revised volumes of a portion of laws every two years.

One bill was withdrawn, LB414, providing for 3 notices of delinquency before issuance of a distress warrant for delinquent personal taxes. The bill's requester had asked that it be abandoned.

2 NEW BILLS INTRODUCED

Two new bills were introduced in Nebraska's Legislature Friday, raising the session total to date to 672.

Both measures were brought in by the budget committee and both involve emergency appropriations for the current biennium ending June 30.

LB671 appropriates $11,350 to meet the cost of travel expenses for district judges, and LB672 appropriates $1,000 to pay similar costs for district court reporters.

Sen. Richard Marvel of Hastings, budget committee chairman, said the costs had been underestimated when the appropriation was made in 1959.

Marvel said he made the motions to introduce the deficiency appropriation bills reluctantly. Deficiencies "are a serious matter" and such bills "should be condoned only in a few cases," he said.

Marvel said he had cautioned district judges and court reporters to exercise care in estimating budget needs.

DAY AFTER DAY
Gold's
OF NEBRASKA
HAS MORE OF EVERYTHING

Shopping is Fun
at Gold's

Shopping can be and is fun at Gold's of Nebraska. Just one of the thousands of retailers throughout the country which shows its merchandise for all to see and buy.

Display windows offer just an attractive forethought to the million of items which are arranged neatly and decoratively on counters and racks inside the large store for the shopper to view, touch, try on and buy.

Strolling down a main aisle to see what is new for spring, you pick up a bright new scarf and hold it under your chin to try the effect. The perfume counter holds all types of luxurious scents just waiting to be tried by you.

Signs remind you that there was a special item you came for. Stockings, soap, stationery, gloves, or maybe a new billfold for the man of the family? No matter what that special item is, Gold's of Nebraska has it on one of its five floors.

Now is the best time to get that birthday or shower gift for that friend: when you're just shopping and not in a hurry. Maybe towels or striped sheets or a lovely luncheon set would be just what your friend would like. Or maybe a new purse, gloves, or a lingerie bag would be better. Shopping for friends is fun, and whatever the favorite, Gold's offers it at low prices.

Just by stepping on the magic moving escalator you could go up and buy that shirt that Junior had mentioned he would like or to get the young lady of the family that pretty blue sweater she has been wanting so long. A whole bazaar of goods is awaiting you on every floor. Even Grandmother, Aunts and Uncles can find almost all the items they could wish for at Gold's.

Simply to lift your spirits, try on some of the many dresses, suits, and coats which Gold's of Nebraska always keeps in stock. A blue dress or maybe a basic black suit!

While you're on your shopping trip why not look at new glass frames, get that bottle of hand lotion or look for a set of luggage for that vacation.

Stop in at Gold's Food Basket to see how retailing further serves America. The best grade of meats, vegetables, fruits and canned goods are stocked on Gold's shelves to keep its customers full, happy and healthy. If you buy too much to carry there's always Gold's delivery service ready to be of service.

No matter how many or how few items you wish to buy, Gold's salespeople are always ready to help you pick the best for the lowest price. Co-workers at Gold's find your shopping fun, too. Fun because it's a pleasure to aid their customers.

Oh, oh! Did you reach down in your purse and find that you ran out of cash to buy that new book you've been wanting to read? Just open up a charge account. Gold and Company is happy to have you charge it, pay cash or write a check. That's part of a retailer's business to be of the best possible service to his customers.

Yes, shopping can be and is fun at Gold's of Nebraska. Just as Gold's would be lost without its customers, you would be lost without the many fine retail stores of the community. This is just one more way that "Retailing Serves America" ... by making shopping a good and pleasurable experience.
